Red Armies Effect Capture of Core of German Resistance

From Europe Day by Day—

THE TIMES, London

News and Comment on International Events selected from The Times daily and published in The Daily Colonist by special arrangement with The Vancouver Daily Province.

(Copyright, 1944, by Southam Co.)

LONDON, Feb. 14—Finland at last is trying to get out of the war she has already lost. The Times' diplomatic correspondent says former Premier Paasikivi, on a mission to Stockholm, is definitely attempting through Sweden to ascertain the Soviet's viewpoint, and all Finland, except the extreme reactionaries, agree the time has come to obtain the best peace terms possible.

The Finns know the Germans can not save them now that the bombing of Helsinki will be followed by worse attacks from the Red Air Force later.

The war has been disastrously costly to the Finns, and the Russians are bitter at its unnecessary prolongation.

The Nazis will, of course, use every threat to keep the Finns fighting to the last moment, but they can not send troops. Some 120,000 fighting men at present in Finland are all in the frozen north, facing large Russian concentrations of fighting men.

From Stockholm the Times' correspondent reports continual political activities in Finland, all indicating overtures are pending with Moscow.

Newspapers, from which the censorship has been partially lifted, have discussed peace proposals openly and are putting forward many suggestions.

But all depends on what Stalin is prepared to consider and there is no sign of this yet.

Last Autumn the Finns, as reported from this bureau, tried for peace, but made the mistake of accusing the Russians of aggression in the previous war of 1941.

Editorially, commenting on Premier Churchill's confidence the campaign in Italy will lead to success in the battle for Rome, The Times says the men who possess the fullest knowledge of what is happening are completely confident of success.

A powerful Allied army holds the Anzio bridgehead with superiority in artillery and tanks. The weather has limited Allied superiority in the air, but the Royal Navy has been able to intervene.

The worst of the struggle has yet to come. If the purpose of the Anzio landing, as General Mark Clark stated, was to divert troops from the main Italian front, it has not succeeded to the extent intended.

But the Germans have certainly had to divert troops from other parts of Europe to reinforce their new front. Tempestuous weather, with squalls, sleet, snow, floods and mud, has greatly hampered operations.

The Red Army continues its marvelous series of victories. It has now taken Luga, highly important strategic railway centre, and is driving westward to the shores of Lake Peipus.

It has recovered all the southern shores of the Gulf of Finland.

In the Ukraine the Russian and German forces are locked together in the final battle for the destruction of ten divisions which have now virtually ceased to exist as units.

The Germans are clinging to patches of forest with the desperation of trapped beasts, says The Times' Moscow correspondent, and are everywhere under devastating Red Army gunfire.

Mass graves have been found near where the Germans are surrounded, according to Moscow. Two thousand Soviet citizens were murdered after they were deprived of their clothes and thrown into a common ditch.

Children were not shot but buried alive. Six thousand persons were driven away to forced labor.

Germans Able to Drive Small Wedge in Ring

LONDON, Feb. 14 (AP).—The Red Army today captured the Ukraine railway village of Korsun, the core of resistance for the remnants of ten trapped German divisions of perhaps 100,000 men who have fought with the ferocity of wounded beasts for 11 days.

In announcing the fall of Korsun, on the Ross River 25 miles south of the Middle Dnieper, Moscow's bulletin said, however, that large German relief forces attacking outside the annihilation ring west of Korsun, had succeeded in driving "a small wedge" into Soviet lines at the cost of heavy manpower and material losses.

The slight German gain cost the enemy 2,000 men, 73 tanks and 20 big self-propelled guns, said a midnight bulletin broadcast by Moscow and recorded by the Soviet radio monitor. Inside the trap the Russians routed the German garrison at Korsun, cut off one unit and wiped out 1,000 of the enemy, and reduced the German holdings to about 64 square miles, Moscow disclosed.

"The fighting is extremely fierce," the communique said in describing the German relief efforts outside the ring.

On the northern front Russian troops captured several more localities on a 70-mile front between Luga and Lake Peipus in their drive southward toward Pskov, less than 40 miles beyond Soviet spearheads.

Pskov is the communications key to the Baltic territories of Southern Estonia, Latvia and Lithuania, and also is the feeder point for an exposed Axis salient jutting 110 miles eastward from Pskov to Staraya Russa, on the south side of Lake Ilmen.

The Germans trapped in the Korsun sector, 80 miles southeast of Kiev, apparently now hold a strip of territory only four miles deep on either side of the Ross River between Korsun and Steblev, eight miles west of Korsun.

Besides capturing Korsun, the bulletin said, the Russians took Samorodnya five miles northwest of Korsun; Listvena, three miles south of Korsun, and Petrushki and Turkentsy, five and six miles, respectively, southwest of Korsun.

Gen. Walter Von Seydlitz, German artillery officer captured at Stalingrad a year ago, again appealed in a Moscow broadcast for the tattered German remnants to surrender.

As president of the Soviet-sponsored "association of German officers" he said: "Your formations

Germans Gain Against Slavs

LONDON, Feb. 14 (CP).—The Partisan army of Marshal Josip Broz (Tito) tonight acknowledged German advances in Herzegovina and the loss of the town of Grahovo after three days of heavy fighting.

A communique from Tito's headquarters said Partisan troops were forced to fall back before German and 500 Chetnik troops advancing from Knin. The communique said the fighting was raging on the whole sector from Grahovo to Lapac.

In Eastern Bosnia the communique said the Partisans fought defensive actions in the Rogatica-Praca sector while in the Kalnik-Kodprivnica-Ludberg sector of Croatia "violent fighting continues."

The Partisans reported that in the scattered fighting the Germans suffered heavy losses in manpower and equipment.

D.N.B., German agency, in a broadcast from Berlin claimed German naval units had sunk a sailing vessel carrying ammunition to the Partisans, had captured 30 motor boats and a fleet of sailing vessels off the Dalmation coast. There was no Allied confirmation.

City Council Grants 6 Per Cent Boost in Basic Wages

Civic employees, with the exception of the school and library staffs, are going to have fatter pay envelopes.

Meeting yesterday in special session the City Council approved a recommendation from the finance committee for a 6 per cent increase in the basic wage scale, and an increase in the cost-of-living bonuses for those getting $2,100 or less.

Salary boosts will cost the city $40,050, while the upswing in the bonus from $15 and $7.50 to $18.42 and $9.21 will mean an increase of $15,466 to the city. Both measures are retroactive to January 1 this

Chinese Win Greatest Victory Yet in Battle for Changteh

Round-the-Clock Bomber Attack Hammers Nazis' Anzio Beachhead Forces

ALGIERS, Feb. 14 (CP).—R.A.F. Wellington night bombers capable of packing "block-buster" missiles have joined in a devastating 'round-the-clock assault against German forces threatening the Allied beachhead near Rome, it was disclosed today as ground fighting slackened some in that area.

Left—The ground was rocking with the thunder of battle when this strikingly dramatic photo was made during the battle of Changteh, strategic city in the heart of China's rice bowl. Above—Chinese infantry, trained by American officers, charge through smoke and debris of Changteh to inflict the worst defeat of the China "incident" on the Japanese.

With the return of fair flying weather after 36 hours of storm, the Allied air force smashed at the enemy in more than 800 sorties Sunday and Sunday night, the two-engined Wellingtons concentrating on Nazi reinforcement columns and supply lines around Campoleone and Cecchina, near where the fighting of the last week was hottest.

The Allied line defending the beachhead was firmly held and remained substantially unchanged over the week-end, a headquarters spokesman said. The ground was spongy from heavy rain, impeding the use of armor by both sides.

Such ground fighting as was reported Sunday raged around the battered village of Carroceto (Aprilia), ten miles north of the Allied supply port of Anzio. British troops, aided by tanks, recaptured an important railway bridge west of the town, but the Nazis again fought their way into the buildings of a factory a half mile east of Carroceto. These buildings have changed hands four times in fierce fighting.

Swedish press dispatches from Berlin said Allied forces on the beachhead possessed a big advantage in armor and artillery and predicted they would open a heavy offensive to relieve their position shortly. British troops were ad-

Letters Preceding McNaughton Retirement to Be Read Secretly

Mackenzie King Breaks Into Graydon-Ralston Exchange to Speak Against Open Discussion

OTTAWA, Feb. 14 (CP).—Prime Minister Mackenzie King intervened in a House of Commons discussion today to say that he had "very grave doubts whether it is not against public policy to discuss further at this time" the granting of leave to Lt.-Gen. A. G. L. McNaughton and relieving him of the overseas army command.

He invited Opposition party leaders and Hon. Grote Stirling (P.C., Yale), a former Defence Minister, to confer with him and read all the correspondence on these matters.

At the evening sitting, M. J. Coldwell, C.C.F. leader, suggested General McNaughton attend this meeting tomorrow morning but Mr. King said it would be preferable to have only the leaders at the first meeting. If another meeting, with the general present, were desired, it could be considered.

Mr. King said the party leaders would see documents of "great concern" not only to Canada but to other United Nations.

The offer was accepted by Gordon Graydon, Progressive Conservative House leader.

Report Peace Bid by Finns

Peace Negotiator Waits in Stockholm

LONDON, Feb. 15 (Tuesday) (AP).—Swedish dispatches today said Finland had sent peace proposals to Russia while an unofficial but qualified London diplomatic source said Russia already had intimated willingness to adhere to the 1940 Karelian Isthmus frontier and forego her lease on the Hangoe naval base.

Dr. Juhu Kusti Paasikivi, who negotiated the 1940 peace with Russia and now is in Stockholm, has sent proposals to Moscow, and in the event of a favorable reply was ready to fly there or to deal with Madame Alexandra Kollantay, Soviet Ambassador to Sweden, a Stockholm dispatch to London declared.

In listing the intimated Russian terms the London diplomatic source said Russia wanted the Finnish Arctic port of Petsamo and as a minimum would demand "elimination or liquidation" of the seven German divisions now in Finland and the right to use any Finnish bases the Soviets might need for future operations against the Germans.

GOVERNMENT MIGHT COLLAPSE ON ISSUE

STOCKHOLM, Feb. 14 (AP).—Finnish Government leaders held long conferences throughout Sunday on the question of peace with Russia amid plain indications that the Government might collapse on the issue, delayed dispatches from Helsinki said today.

The dispatches, passed through Finnish censorship, said there was no official indication the Government had asked for Russia's terms, or even was ready to ask for terms.

But Finland's majority party, the Social Democratic party, was putting strong pressure on the Government to act.

300 in Shipyard Will Be Laid Off

VANCOUVER, Feb. 14 (CP).—Three hundred men are to be laid off in a West Coast shipbuilders' yard within the next few weeks, officials of Boilermakers and Iron Shipbuilders' Union stated today they had been informed.

The majority of the men to be laid off are on deferment and all deferees will go first.

"We were given this assurance by Selective Service," said Norman McSween, business agent of the union, "and the labor co-ordinator is placing the names of a number of deferees in a hat each day, and five are drawn to make the layoffs perfectly fair."

Most of those to be discharged are welders.

"Sit-Down" Strike At Kitchener Plant

KITCHENER, Ont., Feb. 14 (CP).—A "sit-down" strike affecting an estimated 850 employees of the Merchants' Rubber Factory started today when 125 members of the boot room department objected to employment of a girl they said was not a member of the United Rubber Workers of America (C.I.O.).

Plant Manager F. G. Meunier declined comment pending efforts to settle the dispute.

Union officials said the girl had given notice to the firm but asserted the notice had been refused.

NEW YORK, Feb. 14 (CP).—The British submarine H.M.S. Unseen has returned to Britain after completing a 23,000-mile trip, the B.B.C. said tonight in a broadcast recorded by C.B.S. Since leaving Britain 18 months ago the Unseen has sunk 20,000 tons of enemy shipping, the B.B.C. said.

Start Evacuating Castel Gandolfo

LONDON, Feb. 14 (CP).—Evacuation of the Papal Summer residence of Castel Gandolfo has begun, the Vatican radio announced tonight, but there still are about 10,000 refugees who have not yet been able to move from the Papal village that is part of the estate.

In an appeal to the belligerents, the broadcast said, "consequently any warlike action against the village would be not only an offensive against the extra-territorial rights of the village but would also be directed against hundreds of defenceless country people, including women and children."

The Allies on Saturday announced that German troops were installed in the Castel Gandolfo grounds and that if they remained there the property would not be spared by Allied bombers.

STEP UP PROPAGANDA

NEW YORK, Feb. 14 (CP).—Field Marshal Karl von Rudstedt, Nazi anti-invasion commander, has ordered an intensive propaganda campaign to overcome sagging morale of German troops in Western Europe as a result of German defeats on the Russian front, the Moscow radio said tonight.

The English-language broadcast to Europe, broadcast by the Federal Communications Commission, said that large numbers of experienced propagandists from Berlin and Munich" had been sent to the area.

Three Charged In Drug Plot

VANCOUVER, Feb. 14 (CP).—Royal Canadian Mounted Police, co-operating with the United States Narcotics Bureau, today laid charges of conspiring to import opium into Canada against Jacob (Jack) Sieman, 50, arrested here last week; Morris Irwin, 33, New Westminster customs clerk, and Willie Levine, of Los Angeles.

Irwin and Levine are both being held in Los Angeles following their arrest last Thursday. Irwin was ostensibly on a holiday trip to Southern California when apprehended allegedly with $8,000 worth of opium.

Levine and his wife were arrested in their Los Angeles home at the same time, $12,000 worth of opium and $5,000 in Canadian currency being seized.

Army May Need Call-Up Men As Reinforcements Overseas

OTTAWA, Feb. 14 (CP).—Canada's troops called up under the National Resources Mobilization Act constitute a second line of reinforcements for the army overseas, Defence Minister Ralston said tonight in the House of Commons.

He was replying to Opposition speakers who asked the justification for keeping such a large home force.

If the time came when it was necessary to use them as reinforcements for overseas, the minister said, "I will have to make the recommendation."

"These troops are doing jobs which someone else would have to do if they were not there," said the minister.

The operational troops included coast defence batteries on both coasts, fortress troops, searchlight units and close support battalions.

Howard Green (Progressive Conservative, Vancouver South) said the difference of opinion between the Government and the Opposition was that the Opposition believed National Resources Mobilization Act (call-up) troops should be sent overseas as fighting men. He asked why Canada should not send them to fight the Japanese.

Col. Ralston said if that were done the first people to complain would be some Conservatives who now were talking of reinforcements.

Mr. Green asked why a Canadian force was sent to Kiska in the Aleutians. Col. Ralston said that was before the troops went to Sicily. They had been sent to do an important job.

"The fact is," said the minister, "that we reached the peak about a year ago as far as sending new capital units overseas is concerned."

George Cruickshank (Labor, Fraser Valley) said non-commissioned officers in the home defence army who were "afraid to go overseas" could tell a general service soldier to pick up a cigarette butt. Home defence troops in British Columbia did not do "an honest day's training."

"It is a disgrace to the active soldier that any man afraid to go overseas should tell him what to do," he said. "If the minister wants instances I have them."

"I'd be glad to have them," said Col. Ralston.

"It took 18 of them three days to dig one posthole," said Mr. Cruickshank. "I think the minister could well afford to send some of the brass hats around here to see these fellows in British Columbia. They are sitting around on the sidewalks while the active servicemen put up telephone lines."

Angus MacInnis (C.C.F., Vancouver East) said there appeared to be men in the home defence army who got little military training but worked for private employers. One man called up had worked on telephone poles in the bush for a contractor, later did pick-and-shovel work, and later still was engaged on track maintenance. He finally was sent to hospital and his parents were told he was mentally deranged.

There should be an explanation if these men worked for private employers.

Col. Ralston said men could be detailed for duty at civilian work and could be given leave to go to private employers for essential work.

No Opposition as Allies Land on Pacific Island

Ground Forces Take New Britain Village

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS, Southwest Pacific, Feb. 15 (Tuesday) (AP).—The Allies have occupied Rooke Island in Vitiaz Strait, between New Britain and New Guinea, the High Command announced today.

Ground forces also seized Gorissi village on New Britain, 21 miles east of Cape Gloucester, where United States marines landed December 26.

A communique two days ago announced that the marines had extended their holdings east of Borgen Bay in the Cape Gloucester sector. The occupation of Gorissi village evidently was a further extension of their territory.

The move to Rooke Island Saturday was not opposed by the Japanese and no contact with the enemy was reported.

Allied aircraft continued their pounding of Rabaul, at the northeastern tip of New Britain, and Kavieng, on the northeastern tip of New Ireland, with 326 tons of bombs. Nine Japanese planes were destroyed in the raids. The Allies lost three.

The Admiralty Islands, northwest of New Britain, were hit with 90 tons of Allied bombs, and other aircraft smashed at Wewak, the Japanese base on the northeastern coast of New Guinea, destroying seven enemy planes on the ground and setting a 3,000-ton freighter afire.

Japanese planes staged light raids at Cape Gloucester and Arawe on the south coast of New Britain and at Torokina, in the Solomons. The communique said the raids resulted in only minor damage and casualties.

Meantime the full effect of the months of hammering given Japanese supply lines is being told by significant words in official reports—"starvation, disease, privation."

Scharnhorst Men Arrive in Canada

By The Canadian Press

A handful of bewildered and crestfallen survivors of the once-proud battle cruiser Scharnhorst, sunk by British naval units in a battle off Norway's North Cape last December, have arrived in Canada, part of a group of about 800 enemy prisoners of war who have joined the thousands of others in Canadian and United States prison camps.

The Scharnhorst men now in Canada were part of the few members of the 1,400-man crew who escaped the terrific battering given the 26,000-ton enemy warship in a running battle against British forces in the northern regions of the Atlantic.

Most of the prisoners were German naval personnel, ratings and officers, and of these the majority were submarine crews.

VANCOUVER, Feb. 14 (CP).—Christopher Ernest, 22, was sentenced to five years in penitentiary today after pleading guilty to stealing a leather jacket, clothing and pair of binoculars from a cabin cruiser moored at a wharf. The charge was laid under the criminal code dealing with theft from a vessel.

Hand-to-Hand Against Japs

British Troops Pare Down Jungle Invaders

CALCUTTA, Feb. 14 (AP).—British and Indian troops were viciously paring down today a Japanese force estimated at 2,000 which counter-attacked on the Arakan front north of Akyab, Burma, ten days ago, filtered through Allied lines and since has been fighting almost constant hand-to-hand skirmishes.

The jungle battleground is a ten-square mile area in the rear of British forward positions. Although almost isolated, the Japanese have succeeded in establishing strongholds from which they are threatening to cut supply lines to British forward troops.

However, Allied front line troops are holding on despite the fact that the enemy on several occasions has been astride important supply lines for several hours.

The outcome of Japanese operations behind the lines depends on

German Bases In France Hit

LONDON, Feb. 14 (AP).—R.A.F. and Allied planes today continued the almost daily bombardment of Nazi installations in Northern France while R.A.F. Typhoons struck an enemy airfield and other military targets and United States fighter bombers raided the Gilze-Rijen airdrome in The Netherlands.

All the bombers and the American fighters returned without loss but the R.A.F. lost four fighters in the day's operations.

The raid on the Nazi Northern France installations by R.A.F. and Allied Bostons, Mitchells and Mosquito bombers was the 42nd daylight pounding given them in 56 days. Spitfires provided the escort.

Vichy radio said 25,000 persons had been evacuated from the area to another department of France.

The Gilze-Rijen base is used by the Germans to launch interceptors against Allied fleets bound for Germany, a task for which Hitler is

"NO COMMITMENTS"

OTTAWA, Feb. 14 (CP).—Canada has made "no commitments" as to the extent or nature of her participation in the war against Japan but the army fully realizes Canada is at war against Japan and "plans are being made accordingly," Defence Minister Ralston said tonight in the Commons. He was answering a question by J. W. Noseworthy (C.C.F., York South).

Monks and Refugees Warned Ancient Abbey to Be Shelled

WITH THE FIFTH ARMY AT CASSINO, Feb. 14 (AP).—Monks of the Abbey Monte Cassino and any other Italians in refuge there were advised by the Fifth Army at 1 p.m. today to leave the premises to avoid Allied shelling.

"The time has come when we must train our guns on the monastery," said leaflets fired on Abbey Hill by United States artillery.

Twenty-five 105-millimetre shells, each stuffed with 550 of the leaflets, burst in the air over the monastery, carrying the message to the inhabitants of the Benedictine shrine which has been used by the Germans to hold up the Allied advance on Rome.

For nearly two weeks the Fifth Army has attempted to seize the town of Cassino below and the rocky peaks around the abbey without harming the monastery, where the Benedictine Order was founded in the year 529.

The rocky slopes of the monastery hill have been honeycombed with German machine-gun nests and sniper positions. The monastery itself, one high officer explained, has been used for machine-gun nests and observation purposes and as a cover for German troops defending the hill.

Soldiers in the line around the hill and in the town below have complained for weeks about the immunity enjoyed by the monastery. The German use of its eminence undoubtedly has resulted in Allied soldier deaths.

It is believed certain that many relics have been removed from the abbey already. There are reports that as many as 9,000 residents of the town of Cassino have been sheltered behind its walls.

There was no shelling of the abbey today. In fact, there was little activity in the entire area because of a truce requested by the Germans to permit them to bury their dead. During the truce all shelling of the area ceased.

Canadian Army Proposes to Draw 60,000 Men This Year

OTTAWA, Feb. 14 (CP).—Defence Minister Ralston said today in the House of Commons that the Canadian Army proposes to draw 60,000 men from the manpower pool during the fiscal year 1944-45—48,000 of them for service anywhere.

In the present fiscal year which ends March 31, the objective was [illegible] ice anywhere.

Continuing his review of army affairs on the $3,650,000,000 war appropriation resolution, the minister said some 50,000 of the 60,000 men in the present home defence army could be made available for service overseas if the future situation made such action necessary.

Even with battle losses the army reinforcement pool overseas is up to the strength originally planned, Col. Ralston said. It would "continue to be replenished by the distribution of further reinforcements from Canada as required."

Every effort was made to reduce the home war establishment. General service personnel, physically fit, was being combed out. Close to 70 per cent of general service personnel in non-operational units were below Category "A" or more than 35 years of age.

By comb-out and disbandment of units, probably 15,000 general service personnel from operational units would be released, many of whom would be in the overseas service category, the minister said.

A retirement age limit had been established, with the retirement of officers who could not be advantageously employed as well as those who had reached the age "ceiling." A total of about 700 officers to be retired was in prospect. The service of these officers was appreciated but by retirement they gave younger men a chance to advance.

Officer training had not ceased although there was a reserve to meet officer requirements. There would be commission opportunities for men now serving in the ranks, but the general policy was that recommendations for commissions would be made after a man had a chance to prove himself overseas rather than in Canada.

REDUCTION IN NUMBER OF TROOPS IN CANADA

Col. Ralston recalled that last year he had said there would be a reduction in the number of troops in Canada and had forecast the home [illegible]

"I think we have done much better than that," he said.

"We estimate that the army in Canada will be something over 215,000, as against the 235,000 which I predicted; that is, the active effective strength . . . Some 8,000 granted long-term leave in agriculture, mining and industry ought not to be included and charged to the army."

The breakdown as at next March 31 showed the operational troops in Canada would be 55,000, non-operational more than 75,000, and in training more than 75,000.

In the last three months the intake of general servicemen had averaged a little more than 3,700 and almost 4,000 in January.

If recruiting fell off, it would affect the number of men sent overseas in 1944-45 and at March 31, 1945, the reinforcements overseas would be maintained but the number of general servicemen in Canada would be reduced.

Casualties suffered in Italy had been "somewhat less" than expected, Col. Ralston said.

The Canadian Army could never acknowledge fully the work of the reserve army, the old non-permanent active militia, in laying the foundation of the army as it exists today.

The reserve army remained an insurance against the uncertainties of war, said Col. Ralston.

There had been an increase of about 3,000 in the C.W.A.C. this year, bringing the total to about 14,000 or 15,000. The service of the women in this force deserved whole-hearted appreciation. When they replaced men they did their job as well and sometimes better.

Pattullo Has Reminiscences

Reminiscences of his regime as Premier of British Columbia, and a mild attack on policies of the present Coalition Government were indulged in by T. D. Pattullo (Independent, Prince Rupert) during Throne Speech debate before the Legislative Assembly yesterday afternoon.

He referred to an editorial in a Vancouver newspaper which classed the announcements in the Speech from the Throne as the beginning of a new order, and in his opinion it was merely a return to the old order with more jobs for Tories. He doubted if the Government was fully prepared to meet all new responsibilities, because that was a most sweeping statement, and he wondered how any person could clearly see into the future.

He said a forest laboratory was a meritorious object, but would cost the Government much more than $50,000 per year. He pointed out Forest Branch of the Department of Lands had full information on forestry matters, and also had access to data from all parts of North America.

He recalled the proposed industrial research council was a ramification of the economic council established during his regime, and the council had laid the groundwork for postwar rehabilitation plans. He believed the gift of a million acres of land in the province for soldier settlement was an ingenious method to place responsibility upon the Federal Government, and added preemptions of land were nothing new in the province.

"People have been so accustomed to billions they do not see how idiotic some plans are," he charged in referring to plans to spend $30,000,000 per year for seven years on roadwork. He said the promised preferential treatment of war veterans in connection with employment in the civil service was nothing new, and had been employed 25 years ago.

STATES MEASURES TO LOWER TAXES NOT FEW

He stated measures to lighten the tax burden had been a Liberal policy for many years. He recollected that before he went out of office he had asked that $450,000 be inserted in the budget to lighten the cost of education, but it was struck out. In his opinion the promise to conduct an educational survey meant no further assistance might be granted until after the war.

"Commendable finesse has been [illegible] rebates because the Government will be able to revert to original licence rates with a minimum of difficulty," he charged.

He described opposition to his efforts of several years ago to have the Yukon Territory and Mackenzie Basin added to British Columbia.

"Now Edmonton has the jump on Vancouver, and the Government will have to dig down deeply for a road," he said, also expressing regret that the drilling of test oil wells had been discontinued.

He accused the Government of "floundering around" in an attempt to come to conclusions over assets of the B.C. Electric Railway Co., Ltd. He said he had suggested many years ago that municipalities acquire those assets, and now the company seemed anxious to turn them over to public authorities. He felt street car rates would have to be increased if Victoria and Vancouver took over the street cars, and knew it would be an unpopular move.

Mr. Pattullo described the work of his former Government to readjust civil service salaries and establish grades; the conservation of resources, curtailment of expenditures, and other efforts to balance the budget after finding $1,000,000 in current obligations in 1933, and how his Government had been instrumental in securing a $2,000,000 veterans' housing plan for the province after the Great War.

"This Government does not know what trouble is. After the Great War the Provincial Government alone had to take care of returned war veterans," Mr. Pattullo recalled.

"Yes, and remember the demonstrations?" Thomas Uphill (Labor, Fernie) asked the member.

Anglican Synod To Open Today

Rt. Rev. H. E. Sexton, Bishop of British Columbia, will open the annual Church of England synod this evening when he will deliver his charge at a service at Christ Church Cathedral. Music will be by combined Anglican choirs of Victoria.

The synod's discussions and general business will be carried on tomorrow and Thursday at Memorial Hall, with representatives present from all parts of the province. The first session will be at 10:30 a.m. tomorrow.

Many matters of clerical and general importance will be dealt with.

Five Recovering After Car Crash

Five Victorians are back at their homes recovering from bruises and other injuries suffered on Saturday night when a blowout caused a car in which they were riding to go out of control on a hill near Mill Bay.

The car was completely wrecked when it went through a railing and turned over several times.

S. Walsh, 1159 Finlayson Street, the driver, was knocked unconscious and did not remember being taken to Duncan Hospital. J. A. Campbell of the same address suffered a wrenched back. Miss G. Barr, Mrs. M. Steele and her three-year-old daughter, Elaine, all of 1012 Richardson Street, were the other passengers. All were treated at Duncan and brought to Victoria late Sunday.

Miss Barr suffered cuts, bruises and back injuries; Mrs. Steele bruises and chest injuries, and the child, bruises.

Victoria Flyer Awarded D.F.M.

OTTAWA, Feb. 14 (CP).—Five members of the R.C.A.F. and one Canadian in the R.A.F. have been awarded the Distinguished Flying Cross, it was announced tonight.

The R.C.A.F. also announced award of 19 Distinguished Flying Medals to members of the R.C.A.F. serving overseas.

Awards included:

D.F.M.—

Flt. Sgt. H. D. Weaver, R.R. No. 1, Victoria.

No citations accompanied the D.F.M. awards, which are non-immediate, applying to operations in the face of the enemy over a period of time and not for a particular action.

the ability of British troops to knock them out of their hastily-established strong points and to free all the Allied rear supply lines. The Japanese thrust has caused some delay in the British drive on Buthedaung.

The most severe fighting is going on near Ngakyedauk Pass through the Mayu Range where the Japanese, operating guerrilla fashion, are making a determined effort to block the gateway. After slipping around to the rear and occupying a village ten miles west of British positions, the Japanese now are striking back southwest toward their own lines.

apparently saving his fighter force, mitted by Berlin to have regained the initiative near Carroceto.

Battle-line reports said there was little activity in the Cassino area during the day because of a truce requested by the Germans to bury their dead. In the town the Germans still held firmly to the southern part.

ELEMENTS OF 15 NAZI DIVISIONS

WITH THE FIFTH ARMY IN ITALY, Feb. 14 (AP).—Adolf Hitler has thrown elements of 15 divisions—all he can lay his hands on immediately—into the fight to smash the Allies' Anzio bridgehead and stem their assault along the Cassino front, but his position has deteriorated nevertheless.

There is little doubt that the Germans will make additional counter-attacks against the Allied force at Anzio, but so far their attacks have not prevented the Allies from pumping supplies into the bridgehead for further offensive operations.

Although the enemy was able to pinch off a narrow salient north of Carroceto, he as well as the Allies suffered heavy casualties. If the plan was to push on down the road to Anzio, as many Allied strategists believe, it was a failure.

At any rate the atmosphere here is one of confidence, although it is recognized that in war nothing ever is as good or as bad as first reports might lead one to believe.

In addition to the elements of 15 divisions facing the Fifth Army, there are two divisions, the 305th and 344th, left to oppose the British Eighth Army on the Adriatic front.

CRUISER SHELLS ENEMY POSITIONS

ABOARD A UNITED STATES CRUISER OFF THE ANZIO BEACHHEAD, Feb. 9 (Delayed).—Ignoring a 50-knot gale and German railway guns which bracketed her several times, this cruiser and other Allied warships steamed coastwise north of Anzio and poured tons of shells on enemy shore positions today.

In four and a half hours of steady shooting the ship destroyed nine targets ranging from artillery positions, truck concentrations and command posts through ammunition dumps.

It was one of the best days in the ship's history.

This vessel entered the firing area at 9:45 a.m. and immediately saw splashes from German artillery shells hitting the water near it and the accompanying ships — British cruisers and American destroyers.

The first target was a large concentration of enemy artillery. The cruisers joined salvoes and, steaming in a circle, fired rapid broadsides. This ship had fired 17 salvoes when the army notified it to cease firing shortly after 10 a.m.

At 12:45 p.m. it returned to the area and opened up with seven 15-gun salvoes on another artillery position which was menacing the Anzio lines. The army was happy over the accuracy of our fire.

In similar work yesterday, this cruiser and other British and American warships gave the German artillery emplacements north of Anzio one of the heaviest beatings of this operation—shelling so close inshore that sailors could see tanks rumbling across the fields.

Russian Front

are facing catastrophe. There is no hope of relief."

Up and down the long Russian battlefront between the Gulf of Finland and the Black Sea other German difficulties were mounting.

Of Vitebsk, in Northern White Russia, a German war reporter in a broadcast said "the town itself is subjected to an artillery shelling (Russian) which should have destroyed every sign of human existence long ago."

The Russians also were attacking southwest of Krivoi Rog, iron city 150 miles southeast of Korsun, and another German commentator said the Russians "attempted with all means in their power to break into German positions at Dubno," 40 miles inside prewar Poland and about 85 miles northeast of Lwow.

In the drive on Pskov the Russians said their troops during the day captured eight more localities south of Luga, the most advanced of which were Pustoshka, 10 miles southwest of Luga, and Navolok, 11 miles southeast of Luga. The capture of Pustoshka, near the railway leading to Pskov, put that Soviet column within 70 miles of the gateway to Latvia.

The most menacing Russian threat to Pskov, however, came from the troops advancing in the Polna area, about 45 miles due north of Pskov.

Hanson Has No Registration Card

OTTAWA, Feb. 14 (CP).—Hon. R. B. Hanson (Progressive Conservative, York Sunbury) said today in the House of Commons that he had handed his national registration certificate to a customs officer at the border last December and had not received it back.

"I am a lawbreaker and apt to be run into the calaboose at any time," said Mr. Hanson.

"When do I get my certificate back? I am going around in fear and trembling. I demand my registration certificate before I am put in jail."

Resources Minister Crerar said if Mr. Hanson "got caught he hoped to be able "to get him out." Mr. Hanson could write to Revenue Minister Gibson, who had charge of customs.

Mr. Hanson: "Why should I have to do anything? I want it back."

Col. Gibson said: "I'll be glad to see if the officer has it and have it returned."

New Markets FROM RESEARCH
NEW USES FOR NICKEL MEANT NEW JOBS IN CANADA
AT THE CLOSE of the last war, Nickel was no longer needed to build battleships and artillery. The demand for Canadian Nickel fell off sharply. Soon the Canadian Nickel mines had to close down.
But the men who managed these properties could foresee possible new markets for Canadian Nickel in the growing automobile, electric, radio, chemical and other industries. They organized a Research and Development department to work with engineers in these industries, and to promote the use of Nickel and its alloys wherever better materials were required.
Shortly, operations were resumed. In 1924, the Nickel industry opened a new mine. In 1926 it began enlarging its smelting and refining plants. Within a decade it was paying out 15 millions of dollars a year in Canada for wages.
Although the entire output of Canadian Nickel is today diverted to war uses, this industry has definite plans for the post-war period.
Then it will turn again to its peacetime markets, and will proceed to develop new markets based on research now in progress. Through its own enterprise, the Canadian Nickel industry plans still greater contributions to Canada's prosperity.

Claims Credit Not Accorded

Herbert Gargrave (C.C.F., Mackenzie) declared before the Legislative Assembly yesterday that the Speech from the Throne was good as far as it went, but credit had not been given to the proper sources. He felt that if the C.C.F. won a few more by-elections the Government would be adopting the whole party programme.

He hoped Thomas King (Liberal-Coalition, Columbia) would publicly apologize for statements made about people of the Soviet Union.

"The C.C.F. are charged with being Utopian visionaries, but we realize our inflated revenues are only due to war conditions, or they are abnormal under capitalism. Thousands of servicemen, shipyard workers and aircraft workers want to know what their prospects will be after the war. It is and must be accepted as the responsibility of this Government to prepare for prospective unemployment," he charged.

He felt the Government did not propose to take any steps that would remove the causes of depression, with the result that there was moderately good government when revenues were high, but an automatic drop when depression struck again.

"The programme is good, in fact, it looks to me very much like an election programme," he declared.

He hoped most of the money promised for road work would be spent on hard surfacing. He pointed out two particular projects crying for attention were the Bella Coola and Port Mellon Roads, which he felt would greatly benefit the Interior of the province.

PLIGHT OF INDIANS PRESENTED TO HOUSE

Mr. Gargrave called attention to the plight of Indians in the northern section of his riding. He pointed out old age and widows' pensions were approximately $4 per month, and yet seiners were required to pay 20 per cent on their gross income, and gillnetters were taxed 10 per cent, in addition to indirect taxation.

"The Indian Department seems to be run by a group of Scrooge-minded individuals who believe that the only return the Indians should have for the privilege of having a white man expropriate their land is semi-starvation and even that at a cut rate," he asserted.

He thought a most disappointing feature in the Government's programme was the lack of amendments to labor legislation, particularly the Industrial Conciliation and Arbitration and Workmen's Compensation Acts.

"Organized labor has made a wonderful contribution to the war effort in this province, and is almost unanimous in its desire to have these acts amended, and yet the Minister of Labor indicates such action will not be taken," he declared.

"Why should this Government say that a man or woman is not be recognized as a union member for three months, when just as soon as such an individual takes his obligation he is entitled to all the rights, privileges and protection of his union? Definition of bargaining rights for departmental stores should be considered. Provincial Police should be allowed to send delegates to a conference of provincial employees and to participate in genuine collective bargaining pacts," Mr. Gargrave asserted.

The War Today—

By KIRKE L. SIMPSON
Associated Press War Analyst

The Pskov gate on the Russian-Estonian border, through which Nazi forces broke more than two years ago to lay siege to Leningrad, bids fair to reverse its war role and slam shut behind the largest segment of the German army in the East yet caught in a Russian trap.

That main transportation hub between Russia and the Baltic states is the sole supply or escape route still open to all Nazi troops holding the Lovat front from Staraya Russa southeastward to Novosokolniki, a stretch of about 150 miles.

Half a dozen railroads spoke out east and west of the Pskov hub, just south of the Peipus Lake chain, to make it the most important and critical transportation centre in Russia still in German hands. And the cutting edge of a fast-paced drive by the Russian Leningrad army down the Narva-Pskov rail and highway system east of Lake Peipus is less than 40 miles away.

It seems clear the Russian Leningrad and Volkhov armies now have linked arms south of the Luga River and the town of that name for a converging drive on Pskov.

Fall of Pskov before the Nazi garrison on the Lovat front from Staraya Russa south to Novosokolniki can make its escape would mean possible Russian entrapment of hundreds of thousands of German troops.

To heighten the threat, Russian armies centring in the Novosokolniki-Nevel area appear to be pushing northwestward to cut southern approaches to Pskov. Advance elements of that Russian army were last reported about 80 miles south east of Pskov.

Very likely, the final Nazi crisis in Russia is coming to a head in the north and south simultaneously, with dangerous major Russian entrapment manoeuvres now taking shape. The bulk of German armies still in Russia on both flanks appear to be in a precarious position.

McNaughton

A short time before Colonel Ralston, answering Mr. Graydon, had said General McNaughton asked to be relieved of the army command. Mr. Graydon replied that the impression had been left, after a statement Friday by Colonel Ralston, that there was possibly disagreement among the Government, the minister and the general.

Colonel Ralston replied:

"I think I can say that if it had not been for General McNaughton's ill-health, leave of absence would not have been granted at the time it was. He would not have been relieved of the command of the Canadian Army at the time unless he had requested it.

"In other words, ill-health was the proximate reason."

Mr. Graydon said the minister had not answered the question. Colonel Ralston replied there could be no question that the leave of absence was necessary and was requested by the general on the ground of ill-health. The supreme question was whether he was able to carry on. Any other factor was merely "academic" and not applicable.

FACTORS AT MOMENT HAVE NO APPLICATION

"In addition to that practical situation, I ask my friend in all sincerity, as I ask myself and the committee, do they think the morale of the Canadian people, and the morale of the troops in the field would be promoted by discussion of factors which at the moment and in the circumstances can have no application," the minister continued.

". . . I have already made a statement about our army in Canada and overseas, and the reasons for the dispositions. I ask is not that more important than the hypothetical question of the health of General McNaughton or other factors which may not apply?

". . . As I said before, I would prefer not to discuss any other factors. I think the one of health is sufficient . .

"I have some personal reasons why it would be far easier for me to go into discussion of all sorts of things but I suggest that in the circumstances no good purpose could be served, and I leave it to my friend whether he presses that question."

Mr. Graydon pressed the minister again for a reply to the question: "Were there other factors, other than ill-health, which entered into the whole problem of resignation or leave of absence of General McNaughton?"

Prime Minister King rose in his place to rea dfrom a handwritten statement.

"Before the Leader of the Opposition presses his question further, I desire to say that while I know the Minister of National Defence is prepared to answer the question immediately, as Prime Minister I have very grave doubts whether it is not against public policy to discuss further at this time the matter which is raised by the question which the honorable gentleman has asked," he said.

"I believe I am familiar with all the relevant facts and circumstances, and should be pleased to meet with him and to show the correspondence to the Leader of the Opposition and to the leaders of the C.C.F. and Social Credit parties.

"IT IS MY DUTY TO SHOW THEM"

"Indeed, I have come to the conclusion that it is my duty to show it to them. Until these leaders have been afforded this opportunity, I hope that no member will press the matter further.

"Sitting opposite me, in the person of the Member for Yale (Hon. Grote Stirling), I see one who has been a former Minister of National Defence in a Conservative administration, and I would extend to him an invitation to accompany the three leaders, when I hope to have the opportunity of placing all the correspondence before them."

Mr. Graydon took the floor again as Mr. King concluded.

"I gladly accept the Prime Minister's invitation to read the correspondence and discuss the matter with him," he said.

"I want to say that it seems rather strange that only at this stage should a question so serious finally be discussed by Members of the House of Commons. Never since Parliament rose on July 24 has the Prime Minister asked me, as Leader of the Official Opposition, for a consultation on the matter of General McNaughton. I do not know what he has done in connection with the other parties.

"This is a very late invitation but one which I feel should be accepted in the public interest."

Mr. King replied:

"If I have not asked my friend privately to come and discuss this matter with me, it has been out of deference to what I thought would be his own feelings, in not wishing to discuss a matter with me privately until there had been some open discussion of the situation in Parliament.

"I preferred to extend my invitation to him in the House of Commons at the time I thought it became necessary. That is the sole reason I have not conferred with my friend on this point."

Mr. Stirling said there should be no more said about the McNaughton situation until after the war.

HOW TO RELIEVE

PILE TORTURE

QUICKLY AND EASILY

If you are troubled with itching piles or rectal soreness, do not delay treatment and run the risk of letting this condition become chronic. Any itching or soreness or painful passage of stool is nature's warning and proper treatment should be secured at once.

For this purpose get a package of Hem-Roid from Modern Pharmacy and Cunningham Drug Stores or any druggist and use as directed. This formula which is used internally is a small, easy to take tablet, will quickly relieve the itching and soreness and aid in healing the sore tender spots. Hem-Roid is pleasant to use, is highly recommended and it seems the height of folly for any one to risk a painful and chronic pile condition when such a fine remedy may be had at such a small cost.

If you try Hem-Roid and are not entirely pleased with the results, your druggist will gladly return your money. (ADV.)

Putnam Appeals for Roads to Open Great Kootenay-Boundary District

Describing the Kootenay-Boundary as "the forgotten country" of British Columbia, Frank Putnam (Liberal-Coalition, Nelson-Creston) appealed to the Government in his Throne Speech date Monday afternoon to open up the possibilities of the Southeastern Interior.

"For ten years I have been telling this House of the possibilities of this great inland empire," he said. "It is the home of the world's largest non-ferrous metallurgical plant; it is the home of the largest silver-lead-zinc mine in the world. We have large acreages of the finest agricultural land and millions of feet of the finest timber. Its tourist attractions cannot be excelled anywhere in the world." It had a population of 100,000.

It had what was known as the Southern Trans-Provincial Highway, but "even after all these years" the highway had not yet been permanently located.

It has six ports of entry from the United States—but the only paved road to the boundary was at Kingsgate, and that road served only to take tourists out of British Columbia.

Surely if $6,000,000 was available to build a road to the north, Southeastern Interior British Columbia should receive two or three millions to open up its great possibilities.

Mr. Putnam urged also that a home for the aged and infirm should be provided in the Southeastern Interior.

Hon. G. S. Pearson, Provincial Secretary, interrupted with a declaration that there was a home for the aged at Kamloops.

"Yes," Mr. Putnam replied, "and that's as far as the Government has been able to raise its sights."

He commended the increased vote for road maintenance.

SUGGESTS RAILROAD BEST FOR PEACE RIVER

Mr. Putnam urged that any road into the Peace River country should serve the settler now there, having an eye to the future, with tourist conditions secondary. He believed, however, that "to help the residents of Peace River" a railroad outlet to tidewater would be most useful and suggested provincial representatives attending the Dominion-Provincial conference should seek construction of a railroad.

The member for Nelson-Creston, himself a farmer, urged great care in soldier settlement after the war. It would be no gift to any of these men to put them on land saddled with a debt that would take the rest of their life to work off. He suggested the Government should investigate the possibility of further reclamation in Creston district.

He felt the rehabilitation problem was sufficiently important to warrant a full-time ministry rather than a bureau under four ministers, for "what is everybody's business is nobody's business."

Grants to reduce the local cost of education would help a great deal. However, "I would much rather have seen the Government equalize the taxes in unorganized districts," Mr. Putnam commented. It was unjust that school taxes in one district should be half a mill, and in an adjoining district 40 mills. Large industrial plants should bear a larger share of the cost of education.

Seeing over the past 50 years a pattern of gradual development, evenly, gradually and surely, he warned against changing too fast for human nature.

Churchill had promised "work, sweat, blood and tears."

"If," said Mr. Putnam, "we can promise our returned men an opportunity for a decent living with work and sweat, but without the blood and tears, we will be doing our duty."

Is Needed Extension

Provision for a separate maternity pavilion at the Royal Jubilee Hospital, one of the prime requisites before this community at the present time, will commend itself to those who take the trouble to realize how fast the Greater Victoria area has filled up with people in the course of the last ten years, or even in the last four years for that matter. Accommodation that was designed for a much smaller community rapidly becomes inadequate under such conditions of active growth. Then an emergency is created, and that in all conscience is what we have now.

Plans looking to the solution of this problem have been laid before the community in some detail by the directors of the hospital. Construction of a $200,000 maternity section, apart from the existing hospital buildings, is proposed, and this would meet the intolerable pressure under which one of Victoria's oldest and most praiseworthy institutions has been operating for some time.

As already explained, the taxpayers of the City of Victoria are being asked to find $50,000 of the necessary fund. The British Columbia Government has promised to match that amount. The surrounding municipalities, whose benefit in the service is only little less direct, have been asked to see what they can do to help. But, with it all, it is obvious that the balance of the fund required will have to be solicited from the general public, and more especially from that section of the public which in the past was accustomed to provide endowments for worthwhile and charitable causes.

There is a challenge in that. Here is a community service that is very badly needed. The condition existing today is too well known to require repetition here. We are dangerously close to the border line of not having enough hospital beds for people who must go into them. Construction of the needed pavilion would relieve accommodation at many other points. Apart from all duty or obligation, who as an act of human mercy stands ready to help?

Mr. Bracken Grows

In a first speech at Hamilton some months ago, Mr. John Bracken, leader of the Progressive Conservative Party, gave evidence that he was thinking in terms of realities. He advocated in the peace to come a national policy of productive expansion which would give this country both the means and the opportunity of making some of its cherished dreams come true. Its keynote was co-operation between public and private enterprise to a common end. In his second major utterance, his address at Windsor last week, Mr. Bracken gave the people of Canada a more constructive and more rational outlook on the part that Labor can play in that future than all of the pronouncements made by the Administration at Ottawa in the last three years. Mr. Bracken shows that he understands Labor, while Order in Council No. P.C. 9384 proves that the Mackenzie King regime does not. And here was Mr. Bracken's comment on that order:

"Let me make reference to an act of the present Government which, I believe, defies all the principles which we have laid down. It is known as P.C. 9384, or the Wartime Wages Control Order. Under this Order in Council, which is a most arbitrary decree, machinery is set up the purpose of which is to define wage rates and freeze them down wherever possible. The board which is the final authority in the matter, and determines wage rates, is appointed by the Government. On it Labor has but the scantiest representation. In fact Labor is outnumbered five to one on the membership of the board. Of the six members four may be appointed at the whim of the Government, including the chairman, vice-chairman and two members said to represent the public at large. Of the remaining two vacancies, one is to be filled by the representative of the employers and one by the representatives of Labor.

"In matters affecting wages, this board is able to exercise powers greater than those bestowed on the courts. There is to be no appeal against its findings. Putting the onus upon a worker to prove he is not guilty of illegal action in connection with a strike is against all the accepted principles of British jurisprudence.

"I object to such an arbitrary exercise of power in an arena of controversy which intimately affects the lives of so large a proportion of our people. Labor should be given at least equal representation with each other element of the community on boards which have power to regulate matters of vital concern to the worker in his daily life; and no board so dominated by Government appointees as this is should be permitted to deprive organized Labor of its inherent rights to bargain collectively.

"I cannot wholly agree with those who say that we have achieved prosperity in war under an unprecedented degree of state direction, and that we can assure the maintenance of prosperity in peace only by the application of the same principles in an even greater degree. The accomplishment of Labor's purpose will not be found in the regimentation of State Socialism. Our workers will do far better for themselves to join forces with courageous and experienced management to create a dynamic enterprise wherein, through their collective bargaining agencies, Labor may receive fair wages and an improved standard of living.

"If the industrial worker chooses the other road and helps to create a monopoly of political power, he may find a majority of the public out of sympathy with him. In the unlikely event of a Socialist Government coming to power, he may find that he has created a Frankenstein and that the very freedom he sought will be consumed by a dictatorial State force, which will arbitrarily set rates of wages and working conditions. Profits can be taxed, but a monopoly of power in the hands of a political group is impossible to control. The Trade Unions of Germany and Italy entrusted themselves to what they thought was a benevolent dictator, only to discover that they lost what they were striving for. State dictation gives no assurance of prosperity. It guarantees only the loss of liberty."

Elsewhere, similarly, in his remarks, Mr. Bracken showed that his understanding of and sympathy for Labor was not assumed but genuine. Trade Unions in Canada, he said, were not yet as far advanced as those in the United Kingdom. They should be helped, and not fought, to reach that plane where their spokesmen would be truly representative, and where not only the rewards but also the obligations of organization would be mutually recognized and respected. Then management and workers, together with every other interest in the community, could go forward together with all the wit and ingenuity which Providence has given to this land.

Politically these two speeches mark Mr. Bracken's growth as a leader who sees clearly and who is not afraid to tell the truth. He spoke both for and to Labor at Windsor, and what he said will be endorsed by multitudes in Canada who are free and open-minded enough to see over the party line.

Headway in Italy

A brief change for the better in the weather has placed the Allied position in Italy in clearer perspective. Air cover over the week-end lessened the fury of the enemy's counter-attacks, and enabled British and American forces to drive him out of those places in the beachhead battle where he had been most threatening. Hard fighting was reported still in progress, but now the Allies have resumed the initiative, which means that they and not the Germans are calling the tune. This was evidenced by a confident statement made by Prime Minister Churchill, who said Allied commanders had the situation well in hand. Mr. Churchill, as the world has learned, does not speak at random.

No doubt as the major actions open in this year of the United Nations' main attack there will be other occasions upon which the balance may seem slight, and it will require some resource of courage and of patience to wait for the ascertainable facts. To fortify us, however, we know that the task has been well studied, that tremendous resources are being brought to bear on its accomplishment, and that the attack is being made against an enemy who knows that his strength is well past its peak, and waning. Only very ill-informed people on the enemy's side now believe that Germany can win. And that makes a tremendous difference in the fight.

There will be sincere pride in this country that Canadians are playing a real part in the fighting in Italy. Since their landing in Sicily many months ago they have borne their full weight in the battle and created fresh laurels for Canada in the field, to lay alongside those which were earned by their fathers more than a quarter of a century ago. And very bright indeed will be that record when all of the story safely can be told.

Seen in Passing

A picture of Rt. Hon. Winston Spencer Churchill on the wall is an excellent thing in these grim days. It reminds one that not many men work as hard as he at their tasks, that few have a clearer view of what really is going on, and that as it looks now "Winnie" will carry his bat to the end of the greatest game in history.

High Horizon

High in the far horizon
As far as the eye can see,
Up from the green
On the hill length,
A hundred heights over the tree.

White clouds drift in the sky-space,
Fashioning dreams with a care—
One for the heart of the happy,
And one for the soul in despair.

Lie on the grass
In the sunlight,
Or stand in the shadows and stare.
Clouds drift, drift through the distance
Voyaging, where O! where!

Far in the high horizon!
Only a guess with a sigh:
Follow the flight of the white cloud,
The white, on the blue-in the sky.

The Third Column

By TOM TAYLOR

ART OF BOWING

Time was, to judge by old prints and drawings, when the act of bowing was a gracious and accomplished art. Our forbears, specifically those of the male persuasion since they were the elegant sex then and anyway the women folk curtsied, developed this courtly gesture to a fine pitch of perfection. Remember that famous picture of the gallant Sir Walter inviting his Queen to step blithely on his outstretched cloak? What a wealth of grace there is in that sweeping bow, one foot drawn neatly back and the whole pose a gem of unstudied—or is it studied—unselfconsciousness.

Alas, how uncouth homo sapiens has grown—to the outward eye at least. Inwardly he may be and probably is much more urbane than his suave ancestor, who could slit an enemy's throat with a charm that made it look like a favor, but externally he has fallen by the wayside. The veneer of politeness has grown thin as the inner worth has thickened.

No longer do we men deem it a virtue to be specially skilled in the social graces, although there are occasions when lack of this superficial trait makes us almost blush with embarrassment. Such a one is when we are called upon to bow.

MANY VARIETIES

When last did you see a man bow with any apparent ease of manner? This column hasn't seen such a miracle for many moons, if at all, and it has witnessed many genuflections of this nature within the past two weeks; in that repository across the bay where the tradition and decorum of olden days is perpetuated with strict solemnity.

There are, of course, or there would seem to be nowadays, many ways of making a bow. Having grown to a stature that scorns the patterns of the past and insists on proclaiming the complete freedom and the rights of man, individually as well as collectively, the male sex demonstrates this effectively when called on to make obeisance.

There is the stiff, self-conscious bend from the hips, the sort of movement you see at its most ridiculous in German officers. There is the forward inclination that ends abruptly at the neck, whose sudden rush of color oftimes betrays its owner. There is the awkward stoop that doesn't know just where to stop. There is, to mention but one more, the salaam that takes the head almost on a boot inspection.

NO GREAT FELICITY

Not that you will find examples of this kind in the British Columbia Legislature, where bowing is enforcedly indulged in without stint these days. Without stint but with no greater felicity, this column regrets to report. Our legislators have their own ideas about bowing, but after careful observation it has to be said that the House as a whole is rather inclined to sloppiness in the observance of this ancient rite.

As most people know, when a member leaves or enters the Legislative Chamber while the House is sitting he or she must bow to the Speaker, that presiding officer who seldom speaks but reigns in lonely majesty on a throne-like chair, before taking his or her seat. The five lady members, although not models of propriety either in this regard, as no doubt they could be if they had a mind to it, all accomplish the necessary obeisance with considerable naturalness, but the deportment of male members leaves much to be desired.

Quite obviously the latter don't care to emulate the flourish of their forefathers, and are in a hurry to get it over and done with, a ritual to be obeyed, perhaps, but not necessarily lingered over.

HEINOUS OFFENCE

Some members literally toss a curt shake of the head in the direction of the Speaker, as though to say: "There you are." Others bend forward almost imperceptibly, fulfilling their duty and no more. Occasionally you see a member rise and turn in one motion, making it difficult to tell whether he has bowed or not. Or he might simply nod in a somewhat condescending manner.

The odd member, obviously as the result of long practice, can be seen entering the chamber and sliding into his seat with a slick, easy motion that includes, or is presumed to include, the required gesture of respect to the Speaker. Most heinous offence of all, some members actually sneak in and out of the chamber without bowing at all, apparently hoping the presiding officer does not notice them. One distinguished M.L.A. was seen yesterday to take his seat with complete indifference to the presence of the Speaker. A stickler for the rules himself, some weighty mental problem surely led him into an indiscretion he would be the first to condemn.

One hesitates to make invidious comparisons when none are very circumspect about bowing, but truth forces the observation that C.C.F. members, always excepting the ladies, seem least inclined to be meticulous in the observance of this charming and cultured relic of bygone chivalry.

NOT TOO EARLY

No one has suggested that there should be any taxation relief for business or the public during the war. Our tax laws, with all their inequities, must operate now for the simple purpose of taking in as much money as possible to pay for the war. But it is not too early yet to consider a revision of our tax on business to be inaugurated as soon as the war closes—not because the Government should favor the rich man, but because the poor man is dependent on the health of business for his job. The rich man can be taxed as an individual with fatal damage to the nation's economy. Business cannot be taxed as at present without fatally damaging the nation's economy and the job of every wage earner.

DESERVE THE BEST
(Edmonton Journal)

Upwards of 800,000 men and women will be demobilized when the war is over, additional hundreds of thousands will be quitting work in munition plants. Several hundreds of thousands of the fighting men will be going back to whatever work they interrupted when they enlisted. An even greater number will be looking for jobs. The majority of these will need training of some sort. There will be scores of thousands also who will have to be treated as "special cases." They are the wounded, whether in body or mind, the sick and the crippled. No effort should be spared to see that these get the best we can give them.

ONLY INSTRUMENT
(Winnipeg Free Press)

Under our parliamentary system political decisions must be made through parties, which are the essential mechanism of this system. The citizen who takes no part in the deliberations of these pastles has little right to complain when the parties do not measure up to his expectations. Much more intimately than in the past, government, the work of political parties, will affect every citizen in the future—in his tax bills, in his wages, in the prices he pays, in the kind of society he inhabits, in his personal freedom and in the peace of the world. For their own protection, whatever their political beliefs, all citizens must go into politics and the political party is the only instrument through which they can work effectively.

STAMP-LICKING MAY END
(Fort William Times-Journal)

Not many persons like the taste of mucilage. It has little if any tang, no gratifying savor, no tempting aroma to make one's mouth water in anticipation. It is not so bad to have to lick a single postage stamp, but when one has a bunch of letters to post the tongue becomes rebellious and the stomach sickens before the stamp-licking job is over. It will be good news to many that the days of stamp-licking and tasting soon may be ended. Inventive genius has devised a machine that does it all and the machine now is on trial at Ottawa. If everything works out as anticipated such machines in due time will be installed everywhere and we all will forget the flat, unappetizing taste of mucilage.

THE "FOURTH ARM"
(Toronto Globe and Mail)

Sometimes called the "fourth arm" of the services, the merchant navy is too seldom recognized as such. It has not been glamorized as the other services have been, perhaps because it is so difficult to glamorize life in a freighter for those who do not know and love the sea. But every merchant seaman is a volunteer. He chose freely from all the services, or turned his back on safer and higher paying jobs of war industry to do his bit where he felt he could serve best. The heroism and devotion to duty of these men is unsurpassed. Most of them have been at war since the first shot was fired. From that day until the turn of the tide when the menace of the submarine was brought in check, they have been continuously in the front line, and, from the enemy's view, our first line.

THE $64 QUESTION
(Montreal Star)

When Adolf Hitler first took office in Germany his plea to the German people was, in effect: "You follow me, and I'll lead you to prosperity." . . . Now the Fuehrer has reached the depths of Nazi degradation: he is forced to appeal to the people for help. The earlier confidence is gone. Gone is Nazi self-assurance. Instead, of leading, Hitler is following. He asks the German people for ideas and offers prizes for inventions to help improve German weapons, ammunition and implements for the armed forces, or ideas that would save labor, raw material and power. From dictating answers Hitler has taken to asking questions. He has asked, and failed to answer the $64 question: "How can we win the war?"

MAY BE RIGHT
(Halifax Chronicle)

Would the reaction to Lord Halifax's suggestion of a parallel foreign policy for the members of the British Commonwealth be what it has been but for the declining menace of German-Japanese aggression? Are we not letting ourselves be lulled into a sense of false security even before security itself has been achieved, either through the complete destruction of our enemies, real as well as potential, or through the erection of some device of international policing which will make war impossible? In the world of nineteen-twenties the remarks of the British Ambassador might easily have been decried as cynical and warmongering. In the world of today there is a reasonable chance that Lord Halifax may be right, however much we may hope that he is wrong.

UNITED IN THE PEACE

Sir,—I had the good fortune of hearing Lord Halifax's address over the radio and was gratified when you gave editorial priority, in your next issue, to a brief commentary. Other repercussions were bewildering. A Bloc Populaire member found occasion for a "Little-Canadian" diatribe, our Prime Minister for denouncing centralized dictatorship and even Mr. Churchill, for disavowing connivance. I have since read the full text and my bewilderment grows. It seems to me that Lord Halifax rendered a needed service by drawing attention to a very vital issue and that he did so in a dignified and discreet manner, befitting his position.

I have no English blood in my veins and my vision is not distorted or blurred by the mists of affection. I write as a Canadian—a Canadian Nationalist, in the Macdonald and Borden sense—as a believer in their type of Conservatism, a faith now, ostensibly, forgotten and leaderless. But I like to believe that there are other Canadians who feel as I do. It is, for me, very difficult to understand what all the fighting is about if it is not for Canada; to preserve our way of life; our British institutions; freedom, under responsibility, for the nation and for the individual; or, indeed, the very principles for which the Conservative Party has stood, always.

Prosecution of the war should be absorbing every thought and effort but discussion of the peace and of the "new world" in which there shall be no more death, neither sorrow nor crying and no more pain, will not down. Unfortunately, for Canada, the "Internationalists," who, in the main, were the isolationists, pacifists and appeasers of prewar days, have monopolized our air waves. The only other voices to be heard have been of enemies of the British Commonwealth who, construing the loose wording of the Atlantic Charter to serve their needs, sedulously foment distruct and disunity.

If the British Commonwealth had not stood in the breach, alone and undaunted, would men now have hopes of a "new world" to play with? If the Commonwealth of British Nations — already united — cannot find a working basis for united and coherent action in the international field, how shall we find a basis for co-operative unity with nations that speak another language, politically, and whose thoughts travel on other planes? At least since 1906 the British Empire has stood for Christian Democracy in its finest sense. When panic swept the world our Commonwealth was the one hope, the purposeful strength, to which it clung. Is disintegration to be the reward? There is today a pervading sense of transience. May not the new order prove, in the words of Sheean, a "ruinous, upsurging riot of the unknown?" Some two years ago Premier Smuts urged that we take serious thought to the mistakes made at Versailles and suggested that future peace would, perhaps, be best served by limiting efforts to that which is practicable.

In Canada, since we attained nationhood under Borden, we have not developed any national policy in any phase of politics. In internal affairs the appeals have been to class interests and supine surrender to pressure groups. In Dominion affairs there have been two windy conferences which timidly evaded every issue. In international or foreign affairs there has been no planning of joint action and, at most, consultation on the eve of disaster to deals with the crisis which had developed because no concerted action had been taken to forestall it.

I do not believe in eminent control of foreign policy by the Cabinet in London any more than I do in the direction of our armed forces by the Horse Guards or in providing personnel for an international constabulary operating under a police commission appointed by Washington. Our Government has duties and responsibilities respecting the interests of Canada and the only question for us is the manner in which these can be served best. I like to believe that the tragedy of Munich would not have occurred if the Dominions had been active participants in the framing of the causative policy. In the result we were committed to a war which we might have prevented. I doubt whether the disaster at Hongkong would have touched us so nearly or our army in Europe have been dismembered if we had had a representative responsible to our Parliament on the High War Council. Short of withdrawing from the Commonwealth we cannot safeguard our interests without accepting and sharing responsibility. And that does not involve surrender of our autonomous rights, while submission, as one of many feeble nations, to an omnipotent world government, does.

The virtue of the British Commonwealth is that its unity is voluntary, its functioning non-coercive. The ineffectiveness of the League of Nations arose not from its lack of power to enforce its decisions, but from the very fact that its covenants vested it with authority—by armed force and physical sanctions—to coerce unwilling nations. A true sense of history would teach our planners that "nationality" is the strongest political force in the world. Fortunately or unfortunately all nations have not accepted the same moral, ethical or political standards. The current heresy that one can distinguish between a government and the nation it governs, make war on the one and not the other, dictate to any nation as to its form of government, is just sheer nonsense. Not when a nation survives. But we can prevent the recurrence of wars, or, at least wars of conquest, by condescending to the use of common sense. In the Inferno of the Peace Conference, where there will be wailing and the gnashing of teeth, the voice of sanity will be needed. In addition to the matter of preserving peace, there are many questions which will come up that are of vital concern to us. Merely to give instance there is the issue of air power and the future status of Newfoundland, Labrador and Greenland. As an isolated petty state, Canada could not speak above a whisper but influencing the voice of the Commonwealth she could be a power.

In a review of Richard Allington's "The Duke," the reviewer suggests that the greatness of Wellington lay in his sturdy common sense, of which in that age of turmoil "he seemed to have a monopoly." I am not so presumptuous as to liken myself to the duke, but like all simple souls, I have a sense of the sound of truth and, it seems to me that Lord Halifax gave utterance to a truth when he said, "If we are to play our rightful part in the preservation of peace, we can only play it as a Commonwealth, united, vital and coherent."

SLOAN'S LINIMENT

Keen Interest Shown in Activities of Solarium

Reflecting widespread interest in the work for crippled children and greater progress in curing and rehabilitating the sufferers, nine annual reports were read by officials of the Queen Alexandra Solarium at the annual meeting held at the Empress Hotel yesterday; all directors were re-elected and W. C. Hudson [illegible] board. The directors also voted to retain the services of Reginald Genn as auditor.

The honorary treasurer, E. W. McMullen, reported collections from patients amounted to $21,971.07 in 1943 as against $9,000 for the previous year. Total revenue of $87,312.29 was $630.74 above expenditures for the year.

The report showed capital funds of $54,481.86, endowment fund of $19,980, sundry trust funds of $11,304.72, and buildings and equipment valued at $94,508.94.

Of the capital funds 1943 bequests totaled $31,072.8[illegible].

Receipts for 1943 totaled $87,312.29. Disbursements totaled $86,681.55.

YEAR OF REAL ACHIEVEMENT

The past year was one of real achievement, E. E. Henderson, president of the board of directors, stated in his report. He praised the medical superintendent, Dr. Glenn Simpson, for his outstanding contribution to child welfare in this province.

"Fortunately this increased expenditure was met by improved collections of patients' accounts and by increase in donations from the public," he stated.

The per capita daily cost for 1943 was $3.81 compared with $3.41 the previous year, but this was still lower than the average cost of $4.05 reported for all hospitals in the province for the year 1942.

Largest single bequest in the history of the Solarium had been received during the past year from the estate of the late E. B. Andros.

"This sum of 25,000 is a veritable God-send and has been added to our capital funds reserve account. Through the kindness of the late Mr. Andros we can now face the future with greater confidence in our ability to meet the large capital expenditures which must inevitably confront us," Mr. Henderson said.

Gyro Club contributed $3,598.21 from a carnival and hole-in-one contest. The Junior League had provided a motor car for emergency purposes and donations of $4,740 toward cot maintenance.

Mr. Henderson spoke of the Solarium's appreciation for valuable services rendered by Dr. Donald Starr, medical consultant, and the Victoria Dental Association and Royal Jubilee directors and officials.

BETTER RESULTS THIS YEAR

Dr. Glenn Simpson, medical superintendent, gave an encouraging report.

During 1943, 157 patients had been treated, 96 from Vancouver Island and 61 from the Mainland. Excellent results were shown by the report that since March 1, 1927, there had been 1,283 admissions and 1,228 patients discharged.

Of the patients discharged in 1943, those cured numbered 37, and 37 others showed marked improvement.

"The care of the crippled child is not philanthropy—it is enlightened self-interest," he said.

LADY SUPERINTENDENT'S REPORT

Miss Dorothy S. Andrew, lady superintendent, who had been on leave of absence for two years, described work being done for the crippled children elsewhere.

"The fact that 24 out of a total of 61 are here because of bone or joint tuberculosis points an accusing finger at the milk supply of the province," she said, adding that in Scotland alone about 4,000 new cases of T.B. yearly could be traced directly to the consumption of raw milk, of which the mortality rate was 2,000 a year.

SOLARIUM SCHOOL HAS 93 PUPILS

Miss Lucille McMaster, principal of the school, reported that actually 93 children had attended the school and three of the patients had been taking high school correspondence courses.

Miss McMaster extended thanks to W. G. Gamble, official trustee of the Solarium school, and to parents and staff members who had proved most helpful.

Administrator C. W. Laubach praised the work of Dr. Simpson; the number of cured and greatly improved patients spoke eloquently of his outstanding success. Specialists had collaborated where surgical and other specialized treatment had been necessary.

Mr. Laubach praised the work of the efficient staff of graduate nurses particularly interested in our special work, and the competent supervisors in charge of the departments of physiotherapy, and dietetics.

Building of a spacious playroom was a contemplated postwar project, he stated, funds having been provided by a bequest of the late J. P. Babcock. Further, the Junior League has donated funds for a physiotherapy pool to provide necessary treatments. As soon as increased boiler capacity was available these additions would be possible.

Splendid support accorded by friends accounted for 43 per cent of the operating income for the year. This was made up of donations both large and small, made by friends in all parts of the province, chief of these being the Solarium Junior League.

Among members of the staff, Mr. Laubach made especial mention of the work of F. C. Morris, who had been associated with the Solarium since its inception, and had provided much specialized apparatus for the treatment of bone diseases.

Mrs. Lillian Bayliss, president of the Women's Auxiliary, showed $459.10 had been raised during the past year, 305 garments had been cut and sewed and 21 knitted garments sent in. Shortage of wool and materials had greatly hampered their work. This year they planned to appeal for used wool, which could be reknit.

An appeal for linen had netted 365 pieces, and three ventures in catering had further increased their funds, Mrs. Bayliss stated.

Mrs. A. W. E. Pitkethley, president of the Junior League, reported an active and successful year. Major activity had been the April Shower of Dimes which brought in the sum of $2,100.75; a tag day had realized $1,310.23; fashion show, $176.27; soccer games, $657.96; pony rides, Saanichton, $30.86; September tag day at the horse races, $222.40; October rummage sale, $102.00; box social, $63.50; chrysanthemum show, $450; programmes at Victoria Cavalcade, $63.71; December snowball, $318.94, and many other activities, which gave a total of $6,150 for 1943.

Added to the 1942 balance a grand total of $9,019.17 was in the hands of the Junior League last year, of which $6,351.19 had been disbursed for the Solarium. This amount was divided between maintenance of 19 cots, $4,750; monthly candy for children, $125.60; automobile for Solarium, $1,061.92; special day favors and chairs, $49.90, and finally $180 to furnish blood plasma for a former patient. Miscellaneous expenses accounted for the remainder.

THETIS BRANCH REPORT

Mrs. Peter Campbell, president of the Thetis Branch of the Junior League (Vancouver), reported a net total of $459.95 for their year's activity.

Following adoption of the reports, Mr. McMullen proposed the re-election of the board of directors, with the addition of W. C. Hudson. The vote was unanimous. Following were named: Mrs. Curtis Sampson, Mrs. W. Peden, Mrs. D. J. Mugford, Messrs. Alan Pendray, Charles Williams, David Campbell, Logan Mayhew and E. E. Henderson.

Truck, Car in Crash

Stephen Barclay, 2919 Doncaster Drive, was driving his car north on that street when a truck ahead of him stopped, then backed into his car, according to city police reports last night. Driver of the truck was reported as Bert Bains, 617 Manchester Drive.

Stone Through Window

Reporting a stone thrown through his window yesterday evening, A. Clapp, 1041 Pendergast Street, told city police that there had been several similar incidents in his district recently.

Reports Collision

A collision with another car at the intersection of Queens Avenue and Blanshard Street was reported to city police yesterday afternoon by M. A. Bacon, 952 Queens Avenue. He said he was driving east.

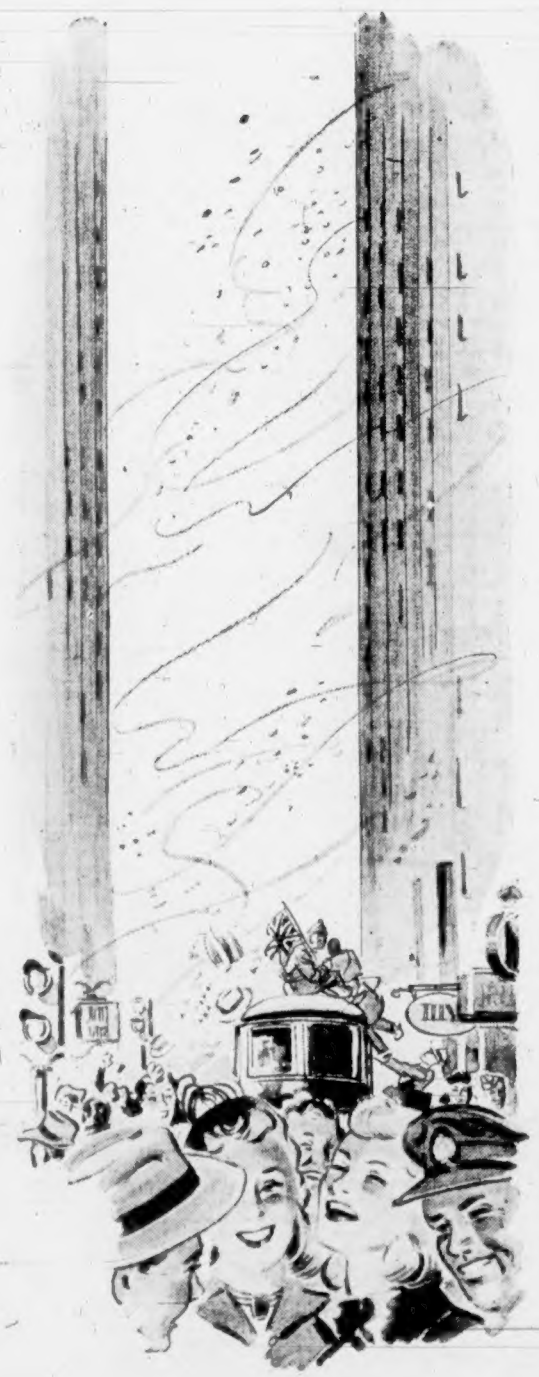
Had Piles for 18 Years

Mrs. Daniel J. B. Mosher, Upper Kingsburg, N. S., recently wrote: "I've suffered from Piles for 18 years. I had both blind and bleeding. I've tried many things—nothing gave me relief. Luckily I saw an advertisement of Chinaroid. Again I decided to try. Imagine my joy when it gave me joyous relief. I certainly cannot praise Chinaroid too highly." If you suffer from Piles, get Chinaroid from your druggist today under agreement that Chinaroid must satisfy completely or money back. Only 75c.

Plunging the country into peace



ALMOST before the "Cease Fire" has stopped echoing...almost before the last drift of cannon smoke has vanished down the wind—the opening shots of a new and even greater battle will be ringing in our ears. This country of ours will be plunged with bewildering suddenness into the vast, critical but inspiring First Battle of the Peace!

Make no mistake about it there will be nothing "phony" about this battle. Its front line will run through every home and factory, through every office and store in the Dominion. It will be a battle for the re-employment in civilian life of more than half a million soldiers, sailors and airmen. It will be a battle for the re-employment on peace production of hundreds of thousands of workers now occupied in war plants. It will be a formidable battle and a fateful one—and you can help to win it.

You can help by setting your sights now on the kind of Canada you want to see after this war. You can help by figuring out the kind of home, the kind of town, the kind of country you want to live in when Victory is won. You can help by planning—for the future needs of your home, your business, your farm. You can help by making ready to make work as soon as peace is here.

Think for a moment of all that will need doing. The refurnishing and refurbishing that will be required in every dwelling in the land. The changes, the improvements, the new equipment that will be needed by every factory and office and store. The new transportation that will be required—the new automobiles, street cars, buses, trains. The new trucks and tractors . . . The new planes. Think of the new farm equipment that will be needed—and the possibilities which rural electrification will open up to country homes. These are things which you can plan for—and yet they are only half the story.

For beyond your personal planning lies community planning. There will be new homes to build by the hundred thousand . . . and new schools and new hospitals. There will be thousands of miles of new highways to lay down . . . and thousands of miles of old highways to widen and straighten and regrade and relight. There will be railroads to modernize and electrify . . . there will be new rolling stock, new depots, new bridges to produce. New recreational centres, cultural centres, civic centres will be needed, new libraries, enlarged universities, new parks and arenas.

We must plan for these things—and we must start planning at once. For peace, like war, will strike suddenly, and, while there must not be the slightest relaxation of our efforts to win the war—if dislocation is to be avoided . . . if readjustment and re-employment are to be carried through swiftly and smoothly . . . if we are to win the peace we must work for the peace by planning for the peace—now.

Many governmental, municipal and industrial groups already are planning for post-war development. Many individuals are planning. But more planning is needed; more is possible. For by planning today, we prepare ready-made markets for tomorrow—markets which will absorb our fullest productivity and create full and gainful employment for all.

Mrs. Ford Heads Navy League Chapter I.O.D.E.

Mrs. J. L. Ford was re-elected regent of Navy League Chapter, I.O.D.E., at the annual meeting held Monday afternoon following a luncheon in the private dining-room of David Spencer's, and attended by a large number of members and guests.

Other officers elected were Mrs. R. Shanks, first vice-regent; Mrs. C. E. Landheim, second vice-regent; Mrs. A. W. Bradley, Echoes secretary; Mrs. D. W. Carter, secretary; Mrs. R. Renfrew, educational secretary; Mrs. A. D. Whittier, treasurer, and Mrs. A. Cote, standard-bearer. Councillors chosen were Mrs. E. Hanbury, Mrs. Morrison, Mrs. Watt, Mrs. Dalzell, Mrs. McArthur.

Prior to the luncheon silent tribute to the memory of Mrs. C. W. Plumb and Mrs. Malcom was paid. Corsage bouquets of pink carnations were presented to the guests of honor, including Mrs. A. H. C. Phipps, Municipal Chapter regent; Mrs. P. E. Corby, Provincial Chapter; Mrs. L. A. Genge, Navy League W.A.; Mrs. James Baker, honorary Municipal Chapter regent; Mrs. J. Quinn, Mary Croft Chapter. Mrs. R. Shanks presented Mrs. Ford with a bowl of Spring flowers from the members.

Mrs. D. W. Carter presented the 32nd annual report recording the frigate Beaconhill has been adopted by the chapter in conjunction with the city of Victoria. The sum of $168.42 was spent on wool, according to Mrs. Biggin, war service convener, and $15.50 on flannelette; 278 knitted articles and 119 pairs of bedroom slippers were made for the services and bombed-out areas, and 187,150 magazines and 58 games were given Mrs. Quinn for ships; 145 books, according to Mrs. Aubrey Kent, library convener, were presented to the forces, and women's magazines to the Air Force Hostess House at Sidney, and Blue Triangle Service Women's Centre. Mrs. W. Webster, hospital visiting convener, reported weekly visits made to the Military Hospital, distributing magazines, games and puzzles, and at Christmas playing cards, cribbage boards, cigarettes, puzzles, games and flowers. Mrs. G. B. Elliott, hospitality convener, reported members entertaining servicemen and servicewomen in their homes. Mrs. R. Shanks reported as Navy League convener help given with the Navy League exhibition and Navy League membership drive.

MRS. J. L. FORD

Mrs. R. Renfrew, educational secretary, told of the work carried out in the chapter's adopted schools—Central Junior High, Burnside, and Sherer Dale, isolated school—and said a calendar had been placed in each room; 38 calendars were sent to lighthouses on the British Columbia coast. A prize of one year's subscription to The Canadian Geographical Magazine for "Good Citizenship" was donated to Central Junior High School, also a year's subscription sent to an isolated school in the Peace River district.

Mrs. M. A. Douglass, child and family welfare convener, related that one case of eggs was sent to the Solarium at Christmas by members, and fruit and flowers to the late John McAlpine, an ex-bursary holder. Mrs. A. Cote, standard bearer, gave her report, and it was recorded the Cross of Sacrifice and Stone of Remembrance were decorated in August by Mrs. Ford, Mrs. Kent and the late Mrs. Plumb.

The chapter is 100 per cent in its subscriptions to Echoes magazine, according to Mrs. A. W. Bradley, Echoes convener. Mrs. P. V. Richardson reported on the Brownies, and Mrs. E. Hanbury on the films. Mrs. R. Bunch told of the work in India.

Donations have been forwarded to Mary Croft Memorial; secondary education; work in India; James Bay Brownie Pack; jerkin room; Central Junior High School; Tuberculosis Veterans; ex-servicemen's fund; isolated families' fund; national endowment fund; Christmas cheer for Military Hospital; camp libraries; Polish relief; prisoners of war; transportation of magazine fund; Australian bomber fund; Sarah Maxwell fund, and Sea Cadet fund.

Mrs. A. D. Whittier, treasurer, reported in war work account receipts, $353.60; disbursements, $389.41; balance, $8.95, and in the general account receipts, $841.95; disbursements, $740.21, and balance, $149.91.

Mrs. Ford stressed the motto of the chapter, "Closer Action," in her address to the members, and urged further work now the chapter has the frigate Beaconhill as its especial care.

Mrs. A. H. C. Phipps, Municipal regent, also addressed the members, referring to "an all-out effort with war work predominating, but with a wide outlook on everything, and doing a major job for the welfare of the Empire," in speaking of the achievements of the chapters.

Lake Hill Red Cross Nets $1,579

During the year, $1,579.01 has been raised by the Lake Hill Unit of the Red Cross, it was announced at the annual meeting held yesterday afternoon. Mrs. W. B. Stockwood, president, introduced Mr. Morton Paterson, president of the Victoria branch of the Red Cross and Miss Honor Nash from headquarters.

The treasurer, Mrs. F. Yates, reported that unit activities had netted the total of $1,579.01.

Knitted and sewn articles for the year were announced as 1,506 turned in to headquarters.

Mr. Morton Paterson took the chair for the election of officers, who were returned by acclamation as follows: President, Mrs. W. B. Stockwood; secretary-treasurer, Mrs. F. Yates; both serving their fourth term in office; knitting conveners, Mrs. F. Hallier, Mrs. J. Krag; sewing conveners, Mrs. R. W. Mercer, Mrs. W. Head and Mrs. H. W. Bown; transportation, Mrs. W. S. Webster.

"NO SLACK IN EFFORTS"

Mr. Paterson congratulated the unit upon its year's work and stated "we must not slacken our efforts for peace is not yet in sight. Let us pledge ourselves to renewed effort in the coming year." Miss Nash brought greetings from headquarters. Mrs. Glover, on behalf of the unit, presented corsage bouquets and presents to Mrs. Stockwood and Mrs. Yates.

Mrs. Stockwood in her report remarked that owing to the size of the unit, which is maintained without expenses, it is increasingly hard to raise money, but the proceeds of the year were higher than previously. Mrs. Stockwood thanked the Women's Institute for supplying the fuel for the meetings, and the members of the Lake Hill Community Hall for giving the unit the use of the rooms.

High School Students Plan Circus Bazaar

A circus and bazaar will be held at the Victoria High School on Friday and Saturday evenings in aid of the Junior Red Cross. The students hope to raise $1,000, of which a substantial amount will go to the support of the nursery for bombed-out children in Britain. This nursery has been adoped by the high schools of the Victoria district.

The programme consists of three shows a night, which includes a vaudeville show. Records from the Carnegie collection will be played in the music room, and booths of novelties, baby wear, home cooking and miscellaneous articles will be featured. Contests will be conducted and a mysterious "Oriental Lady" will give interesting palm readings. The cafeteria will be converted into a hot dog stand. There will be a room in charge of of the Hi-Y Girls where young children may be left to play games.

The wives of staff members are planning a jitney dance in the newly enlarged library. For visitors there will be a conducted tour of the school itself and its displays. It is expected that former students of the school will make next Friday and Saturday night an occasion for a "homecoming."

C.W.L. Honors Monsignor Baker

Senior subdivision of the Catholic Women's League gave a concert in St. Ann's auditorium on Sunday evening in honor of the former chaplain of the league, Rt. Rev. Monsignor A. G. Baker, D.P. An illuminated address and accompanying purse was presented as a token of esteem to the reverend monsignor and gratitude for his untiring efforts during his regime in Victoria. Mrs. Blair Reid, general convener, arranged the programme and Mrs. P. C. Shaw made the presentation on behalf of the senior subdivision of the C.W.L. and other organizations and friends.

His Excellency Most Rev. Bishop J. C. Cody, D.D., gave an address and expressed his personal appreciation of Monsignor Baker and the excellent work he had accomplished while on the cathedral staff. Rev. Father Penfold, on behalf of the staff, presented Monsignor Baker with a purse and wished him every success in his new field at Nanaimo.

Taking part in the musical programme were choirs from St. Ann's and St. Louis College. Velda Wills, Dorothy Harding, Patricia Brownlee, Gloria Haines, Mary Armitage, Pearl Scott, Frances Daniels, R. McNeilly, W. Earl Haley, Vernia Moore, and were accompanied by Rev. Sister M. Noreen and Miss Betty Hemingsen. Mrs. Roy Kissinger and Mrs. Battie acted as ushers.

Valentine Party Held By A.O.F. Children

Juveniles of Court Liberty, Ancient Order of Foresters, held a Valentine party on Friday evening following initiation of nine members.

Winners of a fancy-dress contest were: Joyce Ruddock, Valentine box; Carol Johnston, Carol Sutcliffe, Barbara Tindall, Valentine queen and maids; Pamela Newton, old-fashioned Valentine. Mrs. J. Fenerty, Mrs. C. Davies and A. E. Holmwood were judges. Mrs. Kerslake was pianist.

Plans were made to have "duster hockey" after the next meeting, at which members will bring their refreshments. Chief Ranger Brother Walters presided over an attendance of 75. Refreshments were served.

Engagements

Announcements to appear under this heading will be accepted at The Colonist Advertising Department. Minimum charge $1.50 for 10 lines, and 15c for each additional line.

The engagement is announced between Joan Zillah, only child of Mrs. R. A. Narraicott, Admirals Road, Esquimalt, and the late John Brealey, and L.A.C. John Marsden Ellis, R.C.A.F., younger son of Mr. and Mrs. P. J. Ellis, of Stratford, Ont.

Mrs. C. L. Bishop Elected Regent

Mrs. C. L. Bishop was again chosen to lead Mary Croft Esquimalt Chapter I.O.D.E. at the annual meeting held Monday afternoon at headquarters. Other officers elected were: first vice-regent, Mrs. Warren Smith; second vice-regent, Mrs. McKenzie Grieve; secretary, Mrs. J. Mason; treasurer, Mrs. A. A. Warder; Echoes secretary, Mrs. W. E. A. Barclay; educational secretary, Mrs. J. T. Jones; standard-bearer, Mrs. J. Quinn (for the 22nd year). Mrs. W. H. Booth was elected honorary regent. Last-named has been a valued member of the chapter for many years and her appointment was enthusiastically applauded.

Guests at the meeting were Mrs. W. C. Nichol, Mrs. Hobbs and Mrs. A. H. C. Phipps, Municipal Chapter regent, who addressed the members, complimenting the chapter on three outstanding achievements. Mrs. Phipps said the Mary Croft Chapter was one of the first I.O.D.E. chapters to adopt a ship in this war. Also the members showed initiative in buying War Savings Certificates, and had also placed a memorial tablet in the Lampson Street School.

Mrs. J. Mason read the secretary's report, stating three members have acted as secretary during the past year. The chapter has had three interesting events to report. The first being the adoption of H.M.C.S. Esquimalt. She recorded that this corvette has been supplied with electrical appliances, cookies and candies, and a framed Seal of Esquimalt was presented to the commanding officer, Lieut. Taylor, on a recent visit. His mother, Mrs. Taylor, was present at the meeting.

Mrs. Cresine, treasurer, reported a total of $415.39 collected during the year, with $275 in general funds and $65 in war account fund.

Mrs. Anguin reported the chapter 100 per cent in its subscription to Echoes Magazine. Mrs. O. E. Norton reported on war work, saying that $87.34 value in goods and cash had been received and distributed.

Mrs. J. Quinn reported as standard-bearer, and Mrs. Kent Fawkes reported the chapter's three adopted children at the Solarium "are doing very well," and were delighted with gifts received during the year.

Sum fo $2 was sent to purchase sugar for the Solarium, and $15 to Lampson Street School milk fund.

Mrs. Goulden reported 24 War Savings Certificates have been purchased, and Mrs. J. Bryant reported decorating servicemen's graves.

Mrs. J. Quinn reported 37,056 magazines, 230 bound books, 160 records, two gramophones, 10 packs of playing cards, five jig saw puzzles, four sets Canadian Geographical Magazines collected and distributed.

Mrs. J. T. Jones gave the educational secretary's report, and it was reported 12 ditty bags were filled at a cost of $26.49. Mrs. McKenzie-Grieve reported on work in India, and Mrs. Quinn related $10 had been spent at Christmas on home hospitality, and it was announced $25 had been donated to Scouts and Guides.

Mrs. S. Youlden presented the regent, Mrs. C. L. Bishop, with a bouquet of flowers at the completion of her address.

HAVE ANOTHER SLICE!
YOU SAID IT—tastes swell
—to bake bread just right, use Fleischmann's FRESH Yeast
You'll turn to bread especially these days as an essential high-energy, low-cost food. It supplies Vitamin B, and it's a fine stretcher for other foods, too. If you bake bread at home—don't risk any failures. Use Fleischmann's fresh Yeast. It has been Canada's favorite for over 70 years because it gives such good bread every time. Ask for Fleischmann's fresh Yeast, with the familiar yellow label. At your grocer's.
MADE IN CANADA
SUPPLEMENT YOUR DIET by eating 2 cakes of FLEISCHMANN'S fresh Yeast every day. This fresh Yeast is an excellent natural source of the important B Complex Vitamins.

IF YOUR CHILD IS THIN and NERVOUS
Try New, Improved Ovaltine
Children who are thin, nervous and under par, science has discovered, are often found to be eating foods which do not give them enough of the essential food elements everyone needs for health.
As a "protecting" food-drink, New, Improved Ovaltine adds to a child's meals the essential food elements most likely to be deficient in the diet.
Three servings of New, Improved Ovaltine furnish a child with a significant portion of his daily requirement of vitamins A, B_1, and D, and the minerals Calcium, Phosphorus and Iron—plus quick food-energy elements and high quality proteins—all for building sturdy bodies.
So—if your child is thin, nervous, under par, or eats poorly, why not start giving New, Improved Ovaltine regularly? Get Ovaltine at your drug or food store.

SLEEP STEALING HEADACHES Relieved by HOT MUSTARD FOOT BATHS
MRS. E. LESSARD of Maymont, Sask., has been troubled for some time with severe pains across the forehead. The constant, sharp pains of these attacks make sleep impossible and bring on disagreeable nausea.
Quick Relief with Mustard
To overcome this condition, Mrs. Lessard says, "There is only one thing that has brought any comfort or caused the pain to subside. I prepare a very hot foot bath and put two tablespoonsful of mustard into it, having first mixed the mustard to a paste in cold water. This brings me immediate relief and relaxation."
"After this treatment," declares Mrs. Lessard, "sleep comes without any further effort, and I bless mustard for the relief it has brought me."
Many Ways to Use Mustard Remedy
You can use mustard in foot baths, complete baths, poultices or plasters to relieve pain of Neuralgia, Rheumatism, Arthritis, Neuritis, over-tired Muscles, etc.
The strongest proof of the value of mustard in treating so many common ailments is the fact that thousands of people like Mrs. Lessard depend on it year after year and recommend its use to friends and relatives. Always keep mustard handy in your house in case of emergency to relieve Chills or Colds, or when you feel depressed by Grippe or other Winter infections. A mustard poultice or plaster should not be left on more than twenty minutes. If symptoms are serious it is wise to call your doctor promptly.
Always Use Pure Mustard
Be sure that you ask for famous Colman's D.S.F. Mustard, made entirely from highest quality, mustard seed, and packed to preserve its uniform quality and full medicinal strength. Sold by grocers and druggists everywhere.
Free Booklet Describes Medicinal Uses of Mustard
Write Reckitt & Colman (Canada) Limited, Station T, Montreal, for handy, free booklet, "The Mustard Treatment for Rheumatic Pains and Other Disorders" describing the standard methods of applying this reliable remedy.

Silverleaf Lard
Swift's Silverleaf Brand Pure Lard
Swift's "Silverleaf" Brand Pure Lard

Now in good supply and very reasonably priced, this fine cooking fat should be on every housewife's shelf

There was a time not so very long ago, when there seemed to be a real risk that we in Canada might find ourselves short of cooking fats. Fortunately, the efforts of Canadian farmers have averted that danger and now there is no reason why every kitchen in Canada should not be supplied with a pound or two of that wonderful standby, Silverleaf Lard.

Not only is lard a very valuable source of energy but it also contains other vital elements absolutely essential to health. Use lard in delicious deep-frys, for pan-frying and of course in baked goods. It is good—good for you—and we now have enough.

Martha Logan

DEEP APPLE PIE
1½ cups sifted pastry flour
1 tsp. salt
½ tsp. baking powder
7 tbsps. chilled Silverleaf Lard
Ice cold water
Mix and sift into a bowl the flour, salt and baking powder. Cut half of lard into these dry ingredients, to the size of wheat grains—then cut in remainder of lard, to the size of small peas. Sprinkle with cold water, and mix with a fork, adding enough water to make a dough which will just form a mass that cleans easily from the bowl. Chill.
FOR THE FILLING:
Tart apples
Sugar, white or brown
1 teaspoon grated Orange rind
½ teaspoon grated nutmeg
2 tablespoons butter, if available
Peel, core and slice apples. Mix sugar (amount depending upon tartness of apples), orange rind and nutmeg. Arrange apples and sugar mixture in alternate layers in a deep pie dish, dotting with butter. Moisten edges of dish. Roll out paste, slash and place over apples. Trim and crimp edges. Bake in a hot oven, 450° F., for 12 minutes, then reduce heat to 375° F., and bake until crust nicely browned, about 30 minutes.

Alanville to Be on Exhibit for W.A.A.S.

ALANVILLE, THE MODEL CITY —By Staff Photographer.

At 1053 Newport Avenue, the home of Mr. and Mrs. S. J. D. Clack, there is a model city, built to scale, and complete to the last detail. It is the work of Pilot Officer Rod Clack, R.C.A.F. (overseas) and his youngest brother, Alan, and it will be on display commencing Monday, February 21, through Saturday, February 26, from 2:30 to 5 o'clock, and in the evening from 7:30 to 9:30 o'clock, under the auspices of the W.A. to Air Services. Above is seen a portion of the cleverly modeled city, showing the waterfront and the hills in the distance. This picture, however, fails to show the intriguing little trains that run through tunnels and the signals that automatically flash; the exact replica of Vancouver City Hall, or the copy of a Spanish home well known in Victoria. One of the most interesting scenes is the night life of Alanville, for the buildings all have their own lighting systems, and the churches have stained glass windows through which the lights shine. Alanville apparently has everything a model city should have, and it definitely has an appeal for both youngsters and adults, who find it difficult to leave the fascinating little city.

Parent-Teacher Associations

LANGFORD
A card party in aid of the fund for the Langford Women's Institute welfare group will be held on Saturday at 8 p.m. in the Women's Institute Hall, Dunford Road. Mrs. J. D. Pearson, Mrs. R. Crocker and Mrs. George Thompson are the conveners.

ESQUIMALT
Mrs. W. E. Rayfuse was guest speaker at a recent meeting of the Esquimalt Women's Institute. She relayed much valuable information on the rationing of meats, sugar and other commodities. A silver tea will be held Friday afternoon at 110 Robertson Street to commemorate Hoodless Day.

Gordon Head Parent-Teachers' Association will hold a meeting at the Gordon Head School this afternoon at 3:30. All members are urged to attend.

According to Culbertson

The usually sound plan of establishing long suits sometimes must be deferred because of "timing" considerations. For example:

South, dealer.
Both sides vulnerable.

NORTH
♠ K 6 4
♥ 9 5 3 2
♦ J 7 5
♣ K 3 2

WEST
♠ Q J 10 8 5
♥ Q 7
♦ Q 9 6
♣ A Q 8

EAST
♠ 7 3 2
♥ J 10 8
♦ 10 4 3
♣ 10 7 6 4

SOUTH
♠ A 9
♥ A K 6 4
♦ A K 8 2
♣ J 9 5

The bidding:

South	West	North	East
1 ♥	1 ♠	Pass	Pass
Double	Pass	2 ♥	Pass
2 NT	Pass	3 NT	Pass
Pass	Double

West felt that he would get his spade suit established before South could get rolling, hence the penalty double. Against most declarers this diagnosis would have been proved correct, but this time West was up against a player who knew something about timing.

The opening lead of the spade queen was allowed to hold. On winning the spade continuation with the ace, South's first move was to lead a club toward dummy. West put up the ace (it would have done him no good to duck) and knocked out the spade king. Now declarer cashed the ace and king of hearts and led a third round. East won, but at this point West found that it was somewhat embarrassing to discard. He could do no better than to let go a spade. Declarer put up the ace on East's diamond return, and now, when the last heart was cashed, West had to blank the diamond or club queen, or jettison his last spade. (Declarer had discarded a diamond on the third spade lead and kept the jack-nine of clubs, so it would have been fatal for West to discard a club.) West chose to give up the spade. Thereupon, declarer led the club nine to the king and returned a club to his own jack. West on winning, had to lead back a diamond, and it was no trick at all for declarer to reach for the jack in dummy. The diamond king was, of course, the fulfilling trick.

I.O.D.E. Activities

ROYAL BRIDE CHAPTER
Royal Bride Chapter, I.O.D.E., will hold the annual banquet at the Empress Hotel on Thursday at 7:30 p.m.

Langford Guide Troop Formed

The recently formed Langford Girl Guide Troop and Brownie Pack gave a programme under the leadership of Mrs. J. D. Pearson in the Women's Institute Hall, Langford. Folk dances, Guide and Brownie games, playlets demonstrating Guide laws and campfire songs were given. Mrs. E. W. Abraham congratulated the girls upon their accomplishments.

During the enrollment ceremony, the Guides stood in horseshoe formation with Guides Ruth Graham, Iva Sanderer and Helen Vallis, of Colwood Troop, acting as the color party holding the flag. Those enrolled were Isabelle Caffery, Robin Ray, Vivian Franklin (Scarlet Tanagers); Jean Fraser, Audrey Cole (Bluebirds); Sheila Hicks (Buttercups).

The Brownies were arranged around their toadstool and at the conclusion gave the grand howl to Mrs. Abraham and their own pack salute. Those enrolled were Patsy Hoffman, Sheila Goodmanson, Sylvia Lamb, Ann Millward (Elves); Tannis Cardson, Maxine Fraser, Janey Robinson (Fairies); Pat Kilpatrick, Elsie Brown (Pixies), and Barbara Chung (Sprites).

A silver cup donated by Mrs. D. B. F. Bullen was given to the Bluebirds, winners of the inter-patrol competition, and was presented by Mrs. Abraham. Jean Fraser won the prize for selling the most tickets for the entertainment, which was arranged to supply funds for equipment of the troop. The patrol leaders are Mildred Slater, Pauline Salverson and Joan Guiney. Mrs. C. Cole played the piano accompaniments during the solos given by Pauline Salverson and Robin Ray.

The Guides and Brownies will attend the Boy Scout rally on February 22 at 2:30 p.m.

Tribal Class Craft on Convoy Duty When German Battleship Attacked

OTTAWA, Feb. 14.—Tribal class destroyers of the Royal Canadian Navy which have been operating with units of the Home Fleet in Northern waters for several months provided close escort for the Soviet Russia convoy which was attacked by the German battleship Scharnhorst, the Hon. Angus L. Macdonald, Minister for Naval Services, announced in Ottawa tonight.

The minister revealed that these powerful destroyers including H.M.C.S. Haida and H.M.C.S. Iroquois, serving with the Home Fleet, and that they had been on convoy duty to Iceland in recent months. Other Canadian Tribal class destroyers on overseas service are H.M.C.S. Huron and H.M.C.S. Athabascan.

Describing what they saw of the Scharnhorst attack, Cmdr. H. G. DeWolf, R.C.N., commanding officer of H.M.C.S. Haida, said the convoy was shadowed by aircraft and submarines most of the way. They were "spotting" for the Scharnhorst. Had she been able to break into the convoy and disrupt it, the merchant ships would then have become easy prey for the waiting U-boats and planes.

"We were on close escort duty, inside the cruiser screen, when the Scharnhorst came up first," said Cmdr. DeWolf, "and we took up our station on the threatened flank. We could see the flashes from the cruisers' guns as they opened fire. Scharnhorst turned away but later threatened the convoy from the other side. Once again the cruisers engaged her and then the action went away from us as we had to remain with the convoy."

Cmdr DeWolf told how the ships have been operating in far northern waters for the past several months, up in latitudes where there is little daylight, accompanying units of the Home Fleet. They had also been on Icelandic convoys, sometimes as close escort and other times as part of the support forces.

In four months they had been alongside a jetty only once and that time for a 24-hour spell. They celebrated Christmas in a northern seaport and put to sea again immediately afterwards. As part of a destroyer division with a destroyer flotilla of the Home Fleet, they are kept busy.

Young Pilots Score

BOUGAINVILLE, Feb. 14 (AP) (Delayed).—A group of young marine pilots, fresh from the United States, teamed up here to become, almost overnight, one of the hottest fighter squadrons to hit the Solomons since the early days of Guadalcanal.

In two sweeps over the great Japanese base at Rabaul, New Britain Island, December 27 and 28, this squadron blasted 24 enemy fighter planes from the skies. Two of their pilots were lost.

Bagging seven Japanese fighters December 27, the squadron, near the end of its first combat duty tour in the South Pacific, went back to Rabaul, met a stiff Japanese challenge, and came away after shooting down 17 enemy fighters.

Welcome Innovation

Mechanical, architectural and dining car experts of the Canadian National Railways have designed a new type of lunch-counter car and the first of two has just come out of the railway's Transcona shops at Winnipeg. It will soon go into service on the Jasper-Prince Rupert run. The second will be ready shortly.

"These cars, converted from all-steel parlor cars, will accommodate a greater number of patrons than is possible in the standard dining car," said William Stapleton, general passenger agent, C.N.R., Vancouver, "and they are designed to speed up service to passengers. We are using it on this particular line as it is felt the traffic between Jasper and Prince Rupert will lend itself to giving a good all-round test to the new type of dining car service which we are offering to the traveling public. We fully anticipate this car will prove a very welcome innovation."

Posted to Vancouver

WINNIPEG, Feb. 14 (CP).—Sqdn. Ldr. Ralph H. Masterman, commanding officer of No. 6 Recruiting Centre, R.C.A.F., here, has been posted to Vancouver to replace Sqdn. Ldr. W. P. Graham as commanding officer of the Vancouver recruiting centre. Sqdn. Ldr. Graham will take command of the recruiting centre here.

For Fire Protection

OTTAWA, Feb. 14 (CP).—Establishment of naval shore fire-fighting service, to be employed ashore in Canada and Newfoundland but available also for other duties as required, has been authorized under a Royal Canadian Navy order published today in The Canada Gazette.

The order said it is intended the permanent force will train and organize general service personnel in fire protection and prevention.

Submarine Overdue

LONDON, Feb. 14 (CP).—The Admiralty today announced that the submarine Simoom is overdue and presumed lost. A new craft, the Simoom is not listed in Jane's Fighting Ships.

The 1943 bread grain production of the British Empire was the highest of the war years.

Island Engineer Well Qualified

A BRITISH PORT, Feb. 14 (CP).—Experience aboard British warships and on both coasts of Canada is behind Cmdr. B. R. Spencer, of Bedford, N.S., a native of Alberni, B.C., who has arrived overseas for duty in one of Canada's new cruisers.

Spencer attended the then Royal Naval College of Canada in 1921-22, then studied electrical engineering at University of British Columbia for two years. He joined the Royal Canadian Navy in 1924, studied at the Royal Engineering College, Devenport, Eng., from 1925 to 1929, and served in the Emperor of India—the last coal-burning battleship — for eight months.

He gained further engineering experience aboard H.M.S. Valiant, and returned to the R.C.N. to serve two years aboard H.M.C.S. Saguenay before coming to naval headquarters for a year as assistant director of naval engineering.

Cmdr. Spencer served in H.M.C.S. Champlain from late 1934 to 1936, then went to Saguenay for another three years. From the outbreak of the present war until May, 1940, he was in convoy escort work out of Halifax aboard Skeena. He was appointed to naval headquarters for engine-room personnel duties until February, 1941, and later served as officer in charge of mechanical training establishments, first at Esquimalt, B.C., and then Halifax.

The time used is Pacific Standard for the 120th Meridian west. It is counted from 0 to 24 hours from midnight to midnight. The figures for height serve to distinguish high water from low water. Where blanks occur in the table, the tide rises or falls continuously during two successive tidal periods without turning.

To find the depth of water on the sill at the Esquimalt Drydock at any tide, add above given.

"Paris After Dark" Opens Here Today

What happens to a woman in the hands of the Nazis?

That's the dramatic question posed by "Paris After Dark," the taut, suspenseful new 20th Century-Fox picture, which opens today at the Dominion Theatre, with George Sanders, Philip Dorn and Brenda Marshall featured in leading roles.

The picture, depicting the daring and courage of the French patriots who refuse to bow under the Nazi yoke, is highlighted throughout by exciting situations and thrilling drama, bursting into one of the year's most sensational climaxes.

Featured in important roles are Madeline LeBeau, Marcel Dalio, Robert Lewis and Henry Rowland.

Amusements

On the Screen

Atlas—"Lassie Come Home," starring Roddy McDowall and Donald Crisp.

Cadet—Fred Astaire and Joan Leslie in "The Sky's the Limit."

Capitol — "The Gang's All Here," featuring Alice Faye and Phil Baker.

Dominion — George Sanders and Brenda Marshall in "Paris After Dark."

Oak Bay and Plaza—"Sahara," starring Humphrey Bogart.

Rio—Henry Fonda in "The Ox-Bow Incident."

York—"In This Our Life," featuring Bette Davis.

"Kiss and Tell" to Open In Victoria on Friday

An early booking at the Royal Theatre will be George Abbott's latest New York comedy smash hit, "Kiss and Tell," which recently opened an engagement at the Curran Theatre in San Francisco, where it is repeating its New York success, with a ten weeks' engagement. The featured players are Katherine Alexander, well known on stage and screen, and Jack Davis and June Dayton, the latter a recent youthful "find" of Master Abbott, who knows how to pick and develop youthful talent.

F. Hugh Herbert is well known as a short story writer, Hollywood scripter and magazine writer. "Kiss and Tell" is his first successful effort for the legitimate stage.

There will be two local performances at the Royal, Friday and Saturday nights, February 18 and 19.

YORK THEATRE Billie Burke has given up hostessing in pictures—she hopes for good. In "In This Our Life," now at the York Theatre, with Bette Davis, Olivia de Havilland and George Brent, Billie doesn't preside over a dinner table or do any honors as a hostess. In fact, she doesn't flutter about, drop an idea in midair or just find things too-too confusing. She's being an actress. She plays the mother of Bette and Olivia.

ATLAS THEATRE A new dog star is brought to the screen in Lassie, a gorgeous collie, who plays the lead in "Lassie Come Home," filmization of the last story of Eric Knight, author of "This Above All." The picture, dealing with the love of a small boy and a dog, ends tonight at the Atlas Theatre. Roddy McDowall and Donald Crisp, who played father and son in "How Green Was My Valley," continue the same relationship in the new picture.

RIO THEATRE "The Ox-Bow Incident," now at the Rio Theatre, is 20th Century-Fox's bold film version of the startling action novel by Walter van Tilburg Clark. Henry Fonda is starred, while Dana Andrews, Mary Beth Hughes and many others are featured.

CAPITOL THEATRE Phil Baker, of "Take-It-or-Leave-It" radio fame, comes to the screen as "himself," starring with Alice Faye, Carmen Miranda and the king of swing, Benny Goodman and his orchestra, in 20th Century-Fox's newest entertainment hit, "The Gang's All Here," now at the Capitol Theatre.

OAK BAY AND PLAZA THEATRES Humphrey Bogart, whose sensational performance in "Casablanca" won the acclaim of motion picture fans throughout the land, comes along now with a highly worthy successor to that picture. The film is Columbia's drama, "Sahara," which opened yesterday at the Oak Bay and Plaza Theatres, and in it Bogart delivers a superb performance as a two-fisted, tough army sergeant.

CADET THEATRE Sparkling with gaiety and laughter and breath-taking dancing from start to finish, "The Sky's the Limit" opened at the Cadet Theatre yesterday to prove that Fred Astaire and Joan Leslie make a delightful and unbeatable team—in the right kind of vehicle. The two favorites, here brought together for the first time, turn in grand performances in their engagingly romantic roles.

Glancing Over Sport—

By JOE DELAHUNTY

THE DAY'S ROUNDUP

Met a fellow yesterday and he said he boomed into an argument about who holds the record for home run hitting in the big leagues. Well, that's about the simplest question to answer that this corner has been asked for a long time. "Babe" Ruth, of course, of the good old New York Yankees. The bambino collected 710 round-trippers during his major career, and that's not including the many world series he took part in. His record for one season is 61 and the closest anyone ever came to him was Hank Greenberg, of Detroit, with 59. Jimmy Foxx and Hack Wilson, of the Athletics and Chicago Cubs, smacked 58 and 54, respectively . . . Dropped in to see Sgt. Hank Rowe and his bride-to-be, Jane Trotter, on Sunday and we chatted about the days when the bucket expert was playing for the Domino cage squad. The conversation was interesting, to say the least, and we knocked over a few while Mrs. Harry Rowe and "Pappy" Rowe cooked the chicken and the rest of the supper. The tall Victoria hero of the Dieppe raid during August of 1942 told me that he won't be basketballing on a local court or any other floor for some time, for he hasn't gotten over the wounds he took when he charged with the rest of the Canadian troops on that fateful day more than a year and a half ago . . . Remember when: More than 14,000 Toronto hockey fans cheered as Ace Bailey and Eddie Shore clasped hands ten years ago last night at a benefit game for the former Toronto right-winger? Bailey's hockey career had been ended when he suffered a fractured skull on December 11, 1933, in a collision with Shore in a match at Boston. On his recovery a benefit game was arranged with the Bailey-Shore reunion the attraction. The Leafs won the battle, 7-3, but Bailey and the famous Boston defenceman stole the show with their showmanship and good fellowship after one of the most-talked-of accidents in hockey history.

IN THE MAIL BAG

Dear Joe:

Around April 3 or the 10th, the old-timers in soccer will hold a five-a-side tournament at the Civic Field in Seattle in aid of the "Fight Fund" of the Maple Leaf Post of the American Legion, No. 21. Wouldn't it be swell if we could get an entry from the R.A.F. at Patricia Bay, or Victoria, or Beacon Hill, Sir John Jackson's great eleven of 1914, so let's hear from you.

Barney Kempton,
Football writer, Seattle P.I.

P.S.—By the way, $125 will go to the winning team in Victory Bonds.

Comment: It has been a long time since yours truly last met you, Barney, but I think arrangements can be made so that one of our strongest fives will be over for one tournament. The Royal Air Force is the best squad in the city at the present time and their appearance in your city would certainly boost the gate for most of the boys have played good soccer in the Old Country before being shipped to these shores. Three of the lads are former English pros, the most noted being Les Boulter, who toured Canada and certain cities in the United States some years ago as a member of Charlton Athletic Club. Les has been playing halfback and is turning in smart performances every time out. He has been the spearhead of the R.A.F. attack in recent important matches, while the rest of the team, from the goalie out to the two wingmen, are polished players.

ODDS AND ENDS

Speaking to Joe Bayley, former Canadian lightweight boxing champion, and he said the best man he ever fought in the ring was Dick Hyland, who was in a draw with him down in Calgary. "Another tough customer was Johnny O'Leary, who beat me twice in two hard battles, but he was a smart boxer and one of the best fellows you would ever want to meet," the ex-titleholder said . . . If the entries keep pouring in for the 16th annual Empress golf tournament the way they have been in recent days, the record will go by the boards by a large majority. It is a good job that the committee decided to use two courses, or otherwise the qualifying field would never get finished at the Oak Bay links. So it will be the men at the sea-bordering layout and the fair sex at the Uplands during the week. From what this corner can gather, the local entry won't be any too big, but at the same time, it will be strong and will have plenty to say before the championships are decided . . . Whitey Menard, the gallant little shortstop for the Navy ball club for the past few seasons, has been discharged from the service and has returned to his old peacetime trade . . . The sailors will have a flock of new ball players on deck this coming campaign. Ken Van Hatten is now in Vancouver, while Whitney, the hustling catcher, has been discharged, and Jimmy Dumeah, the former Windsor pitching star, is out on a ship somewhere . . . Mike Genthon, the lefty who won some important games last season, is gone from these shores also . . . However, the V.M.D. is hit just as hard as the Navy, having lost some of their best bets since winning the championship last season. Their big loss, of course, will be Ian, "ace" shortstop and leading hitter.

Sacramento Club Sold to Tacoma

—Coast League Franchise Comes to City in Northwest—Protest Launched Over Sale

SACRAMENTO, Feb. 14 (AP).—The Sacramento Chamber of Commerce today protested the proposed sale of the city's baseball club in the Pacific Coast League to Tacoma and launched a move to retain the franchise.

Otto Rohwer, as president of the chamber, sent protests to the Coast League management and to Sam Breadon, president of St. Louis Cardinals.

He asked that the deal be not consummated for two weeks to enable baseball fans of Sacramento to act. He asked Breadon to set a price on the membership, without strings; to name a price for which the franchise would be sold, free of any connection with the Cardinals.

TACOMA, Feb. 14 (AP).—Clarence Rowland, president of the Pacific Coast League, today was taking a telegraphic canvass of the baseball circuit's eight directors on ratification of the sale of Sacramento Solons' franchise to Tacoma.

Phil Bartelme, president of the Sacramento club, announced yesterday that Sam Breadon, president of the St. Louis Cardinals—who have operated the Sacramento franchise since 1936—had confirmed the sale in a telephone conversation during the day.

Simultaneously Al Davies, chairman of a committee pledging $100,000 backing, announced that "an option for the Sacramento franchise has been signed and will be taken up as soon as approval of the league is received." Davies said his committee had worked jointly with the Chamber of Commerce, a citizens' committee and Tacoma Baseball Club of the Western International League.

In Palm Springs, Calif., last night, Emil Sick, owner of the Seattle Rainiers, said, ". . . the Tacoma backers are good, substantial people and I believe the league will ratify."

However, Charles Graham, president of the San Francisco Seals, said he opposed transfer at this time in order to give Sacramento baseball fans an opportunity to express themselves on the matter.

C. D. (Brick) Laws, Oakland prexy, said he would follow Graham's lead because he was unfamiliar with the situation.

Votes of approval came from Major Charles Lott, president of the San Diego Padres, and Emil Sick, owner of the Seattle Rainiers.

Davies said the committee had been working quietly on the proposition since last September. Vancouver, B.C., and Spokane also were anxious to obtain Pacific Coast League status.

Rudolph Barrett, Chicago, 1944 service command 126-pound champ.

Alcos in Cage Win

Defeat Air Force In Play-Off Game

The Alcos are still on the march towards further basketball honors. Last night at the High School gymnasium they nosed out the R.C.A.F. in a men's senior "B" play-off fixture by two field goals, the final score being 32-28. In the other play-off tussle, K.V.'s beat out St. Louis College by nine points after a keen battle, 36-27, while the All-Stars won from the Unitys in an exhibition girls' game, 23-11.

Alcos took a 7-3 lead in the first quarter and then were out in front at the end of the second canto, 15-11. Both squads scored seven points in the next session they again matched point for point to give the Alcos the decision by two baskets. Creed was high man for the winners with a dozen points, while Travis hit the hoop for nine and Lands was the big noise in the losers' camp with 17 to his credit.

St. Louis College fought a game battle against K.V.'s in the other play-off game. The winners held a 10-6 lead as the first period ended and enjoyed a 17-14 margin at the interval. The teams dropped the same number of points in the third period, but K.V.'s flashed their old form in the last ten minutes and outscored the Collegians, 12-6.

Games set for Wednesday night follow:

7:00—Eaglettes vs. Duncan, junior girls' Island play-off.

8:00—Comets vs. Ladysmith, intermediate "B" girls' Island play-off.

9:00—K.V.'s vs. Duncan, intermediate "B" boys' Island play-off.

These games will be played at the High gymnasium.

Games at the Y.M.C.A. gymnasium follow:

7:15—K.V.'s vs. Duncan, midget boys, Island play-off.

8:00—K.V.'s vs. Duncan, junior boys, Island play-off.

Judges Are On the Spot

Boxing Officials Have New System

NEW YORK, Feb. 14 (AP).—They are going to announce the individual votes of the referee and judges after each main event of Madison Square Garden boxing shows in the future, and unless some of the officials suddenly are gifted with better eyesight or judgment, the ringsiders had better wear their crash helmets. Those deceased bottles and other bric-a-brac looping down from the peanut gallery leave dents.

The system was tried out Wednesday night at the Tippy Larkin-Lulu Costantino bout, and the test case was satisfactory, although it wasn't what might be called an acid test. The fight was so one-sided that even Costantino probably would have voted with the officials for Larkin.

Some of the decisions we have seen rendered at the Garden, and elsewhere, for that matter, would have brought down the house, chair by chair, had the individual voting been announced immediately. It's bad enough when the fans disagree with the majority decision, but when they can pick out one or two men as definite targets they might not miss.

Disregarding the danger of great personal harm to ringleaders the idea seems sound, in that referees and judges will be pretty careful how they score. In the past, knowing their voting would remain anonymous until it appeared in the papers the next morning, they had little to fear, for by next morning they could change their names and move to another state if necessary.

Lodestars in 8-7 Triumph

VANCOUVER, Feb. 14 (CP).—New Westminster Lodestars won the right to represent British Columbia in the Allan Cup play-offs by edging out Vancouver St. Regis, 8-7, in overtime before about 2,000 fans here tonight.

Lodestars captured the best-of-five provincial senior hockey final with three straight wins, and will meet an Edmonton pick-up team in the first round of the inter-provincial play-offs.

It was not thought likely a New Westminster protest lodged before the series began will result in any change in view of Lodestars' victory. Lodestars protested against Sweeney Schriner joining St. Regis in the first game of the play-offs.

Schriner, who played for the Navy-Air Force team at Calgary before getting his discharge, scored three goals and was credited with three assists. Connie King also shot three counters for St. Regis. Jerry Pettigrew got the other Vancouver goal.

Officials: Wilson and Kiyn.

Burlington Is Leading Scorer

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Feb. 14 (AP).—Thomas Burlington, of Cleveland, garnered three goals and five assists last week to raise his total to 63 points and keep the lead in American Hockey League scoring.

All three top men in last week's scoring — all teammates — retained their consecutive places on the scoring honor role.

Lou Trudel knocked off two goals and two assists bringing his point total to 57 in second place tied with Les Cunningham, who was credited with one goal and four assists. Gaston Gauthier, of Hershey, held the third spot with 52.

The "bad man" department stood the same as the week previous with Gordon Sherritt, of Indianapolis, listed as having 65 minutes in the penalty box and four majors.

Victoria High Wins

Victoria High gridders captured the opening match of the Inter-Scholastic Football League on Sunday afternoon at Central Park by downing St. Louis College 11-5 on a heavy field. Scott scored all the points for the winning squad with two touchdowns and a kick to placement, while Rynosky ran 50 yards for the college's lone score.

Don Douglas, Alf Worthington and Wally Smith were the officials.

By The Canadian Press

Four week-end National Hockey League contests widened the gap between the league-leading Montreal Canadiens and the tail-end New York Rangers, but did little to clarify the race for contending positions between the other four teams—Detroit Red Wings, Toronto Maple Leafs, Boston Bruins and Chicago Black Hawks.

Only one of the six clubs took full advantage of their opportunities, Detroit defeating Boston, 4-1, Sunday, in its only week-end engagement. But the wings failed to gain ground on the third-place Leafs, who whipped Rangers, 6-3, in New York, Sunday, after dropping a 3-2 verdict to Canadiens in Toronto, Saturday.

The results left Toronto still four points behind Detroit and three points ahead of Boston. Chicago lost a chance to tie Bruins for fourth spot by playing to a 2-2 draw against Montreal at home, Sunday, after blowing a two-goal, first-period lead. It was the seventh tie for Montreal—against 25 victories and four losses—and all but one of the stalemates ended in a 2-2 score.

Boston's two-game winning streak came to an abrupt end against Detroit, despite the return of Bill Cowley, who had been on the sidelines since January 8 when he suffered a shoulder separation in a game at Toronto.

Toast and Tea

By J. V. McAREE

UNDOUBTEDLY the most embarrassed woman we ever saw was a stylishly dressed lady who sat in a box at Shea's Theatre one matinee many years ago. On the stage was an elephant act, performed by a troupe of pachyderms, one of them being a baby, and as a finale to the performance, the trainer was wont to invite some child from the audience to go forward on the stage and feed the baby elephant a chunk of bread from a basketful of loaves and half-loaves standing near the wings. On this occasion no child volunteered, but the trainer, spying a fancifully dressed and curled little darling in the box with the fashionable looking woman, eventually coaxed him to come forward. The child reached the stage amid applause and encouraging noises from the elephant trainer, who thereupon handed him a half loaf of stale bread to give the expectant young elephant. But the child misunderstood. He took the bread, sat down on the stage and began to gnaw it as if he had not had a meal for a couple of days.

New York Stocks

NEW YORK, Feb. 14 (AP).—Specialized demand for rails and industrials continued to act as a balance wheel for today's stock market although many leaders were unable to emerge from the rut in which they have been confined for the past several weeks.

Prices turned a shade irregular and dealings slowed after a steady and moderately active opening.

Boardroom customers returned from their lengthy holiday about as confused as when they left Wall Street. Sentiment stiffened a trifle as the Italian battle bulletins took a slight turn for the better and individual earnings prospects dropped favorites.

The Associated Press 60-stock average was unchanged at 50.5, only the rail composite showing an advance of .1 of a point. Transfers totaled 548,280 shares, smallest for a five-hour stretch since January 3, and compared with 844,790 last Friday.

Park & Tilford was up 1¾. Other liquors were indifferent, American Distilling "stamped" dropping 3 points to 42, a new low, and the "plain" issue yielding ¼ at 110½.

Modest improvement was held by Santa Fe, Atlantic Coast Line, Chesapeake & Ohio, Chrysler, General Motors, Omnibus Corporation, American Telephone, Pittston Company, Bridgeport Brass, Rustless Iron, Westinghouse, Texas Company and Standard Oil (N.J.). Losers included Bethlehem, Servel, United States Rubber, Eastman Kodak, Johns-Manville, Woolworth, American Smelting and United States Gypsum.

DOW JONES AVERAGES

Thirty industrials 135.39, down .02.
Twenty rails 37.55, up .09.
Fifteen utilities 22.65, up .02.
Sales 548,280 shares.

Suspend Trading in Walker Mining Stock

NEW YORK, Feb. 14 (AP).—The New York Curb Exchange announced today suspension of trading in capital stock of Walker Mining Co., which has informed stockholders its principal creditor, International Smelting & Refining Co., is insisting upon payment of a debt.

These reasons were given for the suspension by the Curb Mart: Walker Mining, in a notice to stockholders February 2, contemplated reorganization or dissolution. Its copper-producing properties, have been closed down since October 2, 1941, and the company is in debt "in substantial amounts" to International Smelting.

The stock has been traded on the curb since 1921.

Toronto Stocks

TORONTO, Feb. 14 (CP).—Posting net gains on today's market were McIntyre, Kirkland Lake, San Antonio, Queenston, Beattie, McKenzie, O'Brien, East Malartic, Chesterville and Springer Sturgeon Golds. Lamaque, Macassa and Wright-Hargreaves lost 5 to 10 cents.

Small gains showed for Falconbridge and Nickel, and minor losses for Ventures, Waite-Amulet and Steep Rock.

Imperial Oil, International Pete, Dominion Steel "B" and Dominion Foundries all posted minor gains. Other strong interlisted issues were Hiram Walker, Distillers-Seagrams, Massey-Harris and Ford "A."

Most of the Western Oils traded quietly. Small gains were netted by Calgary & Edmonton and British-Dominion, and minor losses for Foothills and Mid-Continent. Ajax was active and higher around 1.07, up 7 cents.

History-Making Courses Started At Oakalla Prison Parsons States

For the first time in the history of penal institutions, as far as he knew, home nursing and first aid courses were being instituted at Oakalla Penitentiary, Commissioner T. W. S. Parsons, of the Provincial Police, told the social welfare committee of the Provincial Legislature on Monday morning. The courses were being given to provide opportunity for teaching inmates, more particularly the women and younger men, something about sanitation and personal hygiene in an effort to broaden the attack on venereal disease. Lectures along this line would also be given, he said.

Another innovation was the educational work to bring some of the inmates to higher standard. At present there were some 12 students taking elementary, high school and university basic courses.

Commissioner Parsons stated that of 156 women inmates last year, 94 had venereal disease. Among 1,441 men there were 49 cases.

The commissioner stated conditions at Oakalla were considerably improved, and he hoped for further improvement. Hon. R. L. Maitland, Attorney-General, had become "quite vitriolic" when he saw the libraries at Oakalla. The women's library had already been changed and the others were being changed, the black, sombre volumes being discarded for books in brighter, warmer bindings. Class of literature most popular among inmates was of surprisingly high level, he stated.

More modern workshop facilities were needed. Women inmates were making such articles as sailors' windbreakers; woolen sweaters, socks, scarves; quilts, children's clothing and so on. Men worked at farming, carpentry, making car licence plates and so on.

Regarding escapes the commission said that most of the men breaking out did so to get additional jail sentences so as to avoid going into the army. This was being offset in many cases by giving suspended sentences and turning the men over to military authorities.

He was not satisfied with the recreation space at the women's jail.

PAY INCREASES FOR GUARDS

Plans had been made for regrading guards at Oakalla and increases in pay had been recommended. Commissioner Parsons paid tribute to the guards as "a smart looking lot."

Oakalla compared favorably with California, Oregon and Washington penitentiaries visited last year, and was considerably ahead of Fort Saskatchewan, Alta.

Commissioner Parsons stated post-detention assistance was expanding. In the last year 34 discharged boys went to the armed forces and 78 to industry. Out of 126 in the last year, only 14 returned to prison.

Juvenile delinquency was centred mostly in larger cities, with little occurring in rural areas, the commissioner said. Majority opinion of members of the British Columbia Police was that probationary officers should be appointed to deal with 'teen-aged boys. Various reports set out their belief that juvenile delinquency could best be curbed in the home. Many urged development of recreational facilities. Commissioner Parsons outlined splendid work being done by individual officers in organizing gymnasium classes. Scout troops, sports, clubs and so on, most of it in their spare time.

The commissioner was doubtful of the value of women police officers except in urban centres. The Social Welfare Branch was, he said, doing as much as, or more than, women officers could in rural areas.

Japanese in the Slocan Valley presented no particular juvenile problem, he stated, nor did Chinese elsewhere.

Out of his report the committee decided to recommend that construction of recreation centres should be promoted as soon as materials were available; that estimates for Pro-Rec should be enlarged; that the Federal Department of Indian Affairs should be urged to take more definite action with respect to Indians in British Columbia, possibly using provincial facilities as far as health was concerned, and that it should give more leadership in Indian settlements to encourage self-improvement; that construction of a new women's building apart from the men at Oakalla should be placed on the postwar construction programme and that in the meantime a larger fenced garden area should be provided for women inmates.

The committee approved first aid and home nursing courses at Oakalla, and suggested interested police officers should have the opportunity to take study courses at University of British Columbia this year.

"Bill Nye," Noted Figure, Passes

Longshoreman "Bill Nye's" colorful figure will be seen no more in Victoria. Long a familiar sight, the inexorable artistry of time had seamed his face, whitened his flowing beard, and stooped his shoulders, but could not lessen the character written deeply on his countenance. "Bill" was found dead in his cabin on Blanshard Street Saturday, after he had been missing for seven days. His real name was Thomas Chaplin.

The man who knew him best, Ronald M. Angus, of the Stamp Shop, reminisced about "Bill" in his office yesterday. "'Bill' said he was born in Samoa, and spoke of having two sisters in Tasmania, although he hadn't heard from them for a long time. He had traveled all over the world and was, I am sure, a very well-educated man. I think he would be about 95.

"Bill didn't talk much, but he often used to trudge up here to see me, bearing the inevitable gunnysack over his shoulder. I'd have to guess at his nationality, but I would say he had one French parent. His accent was Australian, but he had a French intonation and could converse in that tongue."

Mr. Angus said that "Bill" hadn't always lived in the cabin on Blanshard Street, but that years ago he lived on the flats where the Empress Hotel now stands. He came to Victoria in 1883 and liked it so well he stayed.

"Bill had a prodigious memory," Mr. Angus went on. "I first met him when I was paymaster at the Victoria and Vancouver Stevedore Company. He would come into the office and his eye would be taken by some old windjammer. He could sit down and give accurate data on any barkentine on the walls. He'd quote the date and hour of arrival and could give a complete manifesto of her cargo.

"He was a good worker at the docks and well liked. I remember that one shipping company used to pay their bills in cash, sometimes in $500 bills. For a joke they would ask Bill to change them. He would pull out a big canvas 'poke' he carried and change it without blinking an eyelash."

Mr. Angus was asked if he knew anything about the 420 foreign coins found on "Bill's" person after his death. "I couldn't say. He would collect anything from bits of string to old newspaper scraps. Sometimes he would come into the office and begin talking about something that happened years before—some old news item he'd just read and it would be fresh in his mind.

"Bill particularly loved going to a movie and sitting through it all day. I never knew him to take a drink, and there was nothing wrong with his balancing powers! Years ago it was quite a sight to see him paddling around the harbor in a round coracle, something like a barrel. I guess only an old sailor could have navigated it. I'm sorry to see old Bill go—it marks the passage of a colorful era and a wonderful old character."

Pte. Charles P. L. Lenieu was fined $5 for having in his possession a national registration card made out to another person.

Five motorists paid fines amounting to $72.50 for traffic violations.

R. P. Duncan's Body Found

Finding of a body, identified as that of Robert P. Duncan, 55-year-old Victoria shipyard worker, yesterday afternoon off Union Oil Company's wharf, closed the records of a New Year's Night tragedy in which five men lost their lives.

The body, floating close to shore, was reported to city police at 3:05 p.m. by E. I. Foulds, 888 Colville Road, Union Oil Company employee.

Duncan was driver of a car which, driven off the end of Songhees Road on the night of January 1, carried Frank Brundridge, Dan Bethune, Frank Masters and Joseph Marino to their deaths.

Brundridge's body was found a week later off V.M.D. Shipyards. Dragging operations by Provincial and city police recovered the car, containing the other three bodies, off Shell Oil Company's wharf on January 15.

Duncan leaves his widow at 155 Clarence Street.

Besides other articles, by which he was identified, police found $58 in bills and $1.15 in change.

The body was found about 50 yards west from where the car was removed.

WANTED IMMEDIATELY
LIVING QUARTERS FOR WAR WORKERS AND THEIR FAMILIES

Victoria's war record is a fine one. Our city has become a leading centre of war industry. But Victoria's vital war production is seriously endangered. There is an acute housing shortage. Many war workers and their families cannot find accommodation, or are living under conditions shameful for this city. That is why you are being appealed to, urgently, to

RENT YOUR EMPTY OR UNUSED SPACE

There is still idle accommodation in Victoria—left vacant when children married or left home to join the fighting services. If you have usable space in your home, you will be doing a valuable war job and helping to relieve a housing crisis by renting it as family dwelling units to war workers and their wives and children. Many Victoria residents have already responded generously to the appeal but more are needed.

THE NEED IS URGENT—ACT NOW

There are hundreds of families listed with the National Housing Registry who need living quarters NOW. Whatever spare space you have—a suite, an apartment, or other family space—make it available, for rent, for war workers and their families, without delay. It's the generous, patriotic thing to do. Advise the Housing Registry, at once, what accommodation you have. There is no cost whatever to you—and no commitments. The Registry is an official government organization.

He is mourned by his widow, Emily Louise; two sons, John Ridington, with the C.N.R. at Vermilion, Alta., and Eric W., in Saskatoon, Sask., and three daughters, (Gertrude), Mrs. W. L. Clink, of Battleford, Sask., (Cecelia), Mrs. Sydney H. Simpson, of Duck Lake, Sask., and (Florence), Mrs. C. W. Scott, of Pembroke, Ont.; also a brother, John, of Vancouver, B.C. Prior to coming to Victoria he was licence inspector and sheriff of the judicial district of Battleford, and was senior district warden, north of Oak Bay Avenue, of the A.R.P. Funeral services will be held at McCall Bros.' Floral Funeral Chapel on Wednesday afternoon at 2:30 under the auspices of Confederation Lodge No. 116, A.F. & A.M. Rev. H. A. McLeod, D.D., assisted by Rev. John Turner, will conduct the service. Interment in the family plot at Colwood Burial Park.

5 IN MEMORIAM

HOOD—In loving memory of George Hood, who passed away February 15, 1940.

Today recalls a memory
Of a loved one gone to rest,
And those who think of him today
Are those who loved him best.

—Ever remembered by his wife, son and family.

What Today Means

"AQUARIUS"

If February 15 is your birthday, the best hours for you on this date are from 10 a.m. until noon from 1 to 3 p.m., and from 8 to 10 p.m. The danger periods are from 8 to 10 a.m., from 6 to 8 p.m., and from 10 p.m. until midnight.

A spirit of contrariness will make a good many people almost insufferable today, so if a feeling that the world is upside down makes you cross-grained and rather antagonistic towards both people and suggestions, try to realize that the trouble is with you and needs correcting. Only by trying to be agreeable and co-operative will you be able to get through the day successfully. There may be many cases of false economy in evidence on this date, so do what you can to keep from being among those who practice it. Do not go too much on the theory that "a penny saved is a penny made," for purchases made at a price rather than on quality, are likely to turn out to be decidedly unsatisfactory. Married and engaged couples, and prospective fiancees, will have to keep mentally alert today if they expect to avoid saying or doing something that is liable to land them in trouble.

If a woman and February 15 is your birthday, varied experiences may, sooner or later, make you a very conservative person, whose judgment will be often sought and respected. Given the opportunity you should be capable of displaying a remarkable amount of business ability. You ought to be very clever when it comes to making any kind of an estimate or finding a solution to any sort of a knotty problem. While not necessarily straight-laced you, in all likelihood, firmly believe in conforming with the rules prescribed by the conventionalities governing polite society. As a secretary, public stenographer, librarian, business operator, manager, accountant, sales agent, scientific research worker, teacher, broker, writer, artist, singer, musician, actress, or through work of a patriotic nature, you may win a flattering amount of recognition and freedom from financial cares. You will apparently have it in your power to regulate your matrimonial affairs in a thoroughly satisfactory manner.

The child born on February 15 usually develops into a very sensible, ambitious youngster, who is generally capable of doing efficiently whatever it undertakes. A tendency to have too many varied interests may need curbing, for the best chance for this youngster's future success may come through its specializing in some one particular line of activity.

If a man and February 15 is your natal day, you are probably inclined to be overly independent. You may have need to learn to pocket your pride when it is to your advantage to do so. As a skilled mechanic, engineer, inventor, chemist, doctor, lawyer, clergyman, educator, sales executive, buyer, journalist, author, actor, agriculturist, manufacturer, or through valuable services rendered your country, you should find yourself substantially rewarded and widely known.

McGavin Names Representatives

Mayor Andrew McGavin, at a special City Council session yesterday, appointed Aldermen B. J. Gadsden and T. W. Hawkins as the city's representatives to the legislative committee sessions opening today on the Union of British Columbia Municipalities resolutions.

Forrest L. Shaw, city solicitor, informed the mayor and council that the three questions in which Victoria was most interested were the police commission plebiscite, appointments of police magistrates and the moving of sick people from homes which are considered unsatisfactory.

Mayor McGavin appointed M. P. Paine, building contractor, to serve as a fence viewer. He will replace the late William Luney on that body.

Health committee brought forward a recommendation from the medical health officer and the building inspector for a new floor in the city-operated Chinese Hospital on Fisgard Street.

Appointments by the mayor and the recommendation by the health committee received council approval.

Winnipeg Grain

WINNIPEG, Feb. 14 (CP).—Rye was unchanged to ⅛ lower today on the Winnipeg Grain Exchange and futures trading was again irregular. The May future closed $1.27⅝ bid, July $1.26 bid and October $1.24⅛ to $1.24⅜.

Early advances were attributed to strength at Chicago aided by fair buying by commission houses and locals here meeting light offerings.

Declines were posted around mid-session as Chicago weakened and commission houses and locals entered the pit on the selling side.

In the cash market, odd cars of rye and barley were reported taken by shippers at the Lakehead for the opening of navigation.

Chicago Grain

CHICAGO, Feb. 14 (AP).—Additional moisture over the Winter wheat belt, a lag in Government flour buying and a slackening in the demand for high protein cash wheat combined to depress bread cereal futures today. The market was steady at the start but soon declined and worked downward throughout most of the session.

Most of the trading activity was concentrated in rye, which advanced more than a cent at the start on reports of experiments to produce industrial alcohol from rye grits. Most of the advance was attributed to short covering and when other grains failed to advance rye turned weaker. Oats were off with wheat.

At the close wheat was 5-8 to 1 cent lower, May $1.69 3-4, oats were off 3-8 to 7-8, May 78 5-8, rye was 3-8 lower to 1-8 higher, May $1.28 3-8 to $1.28 1-2, and barley was 3-8 to 3-4 lower, May $1.21 1-8.

Red Cross Notes

GANGES, NORTH SALT SPRING—Annual meeting of Ganges and North Salt Spring Canadian Red Cross Society was held recently at the Mahon Hall, Ganges, with the president, Rev. J. Dewar, in the chair. The treasurer's report showed a cash balance of $2 with a total collected for the year of $2,042.56

The membership stood at 291. Two hundred and twenty-seven woollies for servicemen, children and W.A.T.S. were sent to headquarters, also 354 articles made from Red Cross issue, 239 to Bundles for Britain and 232 donated to the Ganges Chapter, I.O.D.E., for the Solarium and for Polish relief. The president said that great as the effort had been, the demand would be still greater in the future. Red Cross parcels, he said, were the only things that made life bearable to prisoners of war and congratulated the members on the fact that out of 111 units the Ganges and North Salt Spring had come fifth. The following officers were elected for the ensuing year: President, Rev. J. Dewar; first vice-president, W. M. Mouat; second vice-president, Dr. Dallas Perry; secretary, K. Butterfield; treasurer, Miss Anna Lees; war work convener, Mrs. A. B. Elliott; convener for the March Red Cross drive, George Lowe; committee, Mr. and Mrs. George Lowe, Mrs. W. M. Mouat, Mrs. G. J. Mouat, Mrs. H. Johnson, Mrs. A. Inglis, Mrs. M. B. Mouat, Miss Mary Lees and E. A. Crofton.

Capt. Alan Chambers gave an address on the Red Cross in Europe, giving his own personal experience of the organization when in hospital overseas.

MONTREAL, Feb. 14 (CP). — Rt. Hon. Vincent Massey, Canadian High Commissioner to Britain, arrived here tonight after a trans-Atlantic airplane flight.
